Rooney, Wandell put back on the board

By SEAN DEVLIN

WILMINGTON - Despite one the lowest voter turnouts in recent memory, the town's ballot casters re-elected selectmen incumbents James Rooney and Daniel Wandell during Saturday's annual elections.

Rooney topped the selectmen ticket with a total of 1,148 votes, and was followed by Wandell with 966 votes to capture the two three-year seats. Both are returning for their second terms.

Candidate Charles Fiore Jr. placed third on the ticket with 713 votes, while Redevelopment Authority member A. Mark Zinan came in fourth at 600 votes. Mark Nelson, who ran for a seat on the board last year, finished in fifth with a total of 472 votes.

"It's been quite a bit of work for the people supporting me," said Rooney, after learning of his victory. "The issues I've been involved with have been positive. I'm dedicated to being a selectman and I intend to continue with that."

Rooney added that he feels that the current board is headed in a positive direction and that he intends to see the town projects, such as the new middle school and town center revitalization, through to completion.

Wandell agreed with Rooney, saying that he would also like to stay involved with the town's current building projects which were developed during their first terms.

"I am very happy with the results," said Wandell. "Every issue that was brought up has been addressed. This is a very proactive board."

After the votes were tallied, Fiore was pondering whether he would make another attempt in next year's race.

"I'm still thinking about it. I was [campaigning] myself, and it was a long haul. I don't know if I'd go through it again," he said, adding that if he did run for a seat next year he would form a committee to aid with his campaign.

Nelson said that he plans to enter the race for his third consecutive year.

"I'm planning on running again next year for sure," he said. "Although I'm going to start my camaign this fall during the primaries."

Reflecting on Saturday evening's results, Zinan said that despite his loss he will continue to stay abreast with the town's issues.

"It's a start for me and I'm definitely going to stay involved. I'm still a member of the Redevelopment Authority and the Ipswich River Stream Team. It was a clean race and we stuck to the issues. I also got to meet a lot of new people. But the bottom line - we have to do something about this turnout," said Zinan.

While some candidates agreed that this year's voter turnout was far less than anticipated, statistics show that it was the lowest since 1990, with only 19 percent of the town's registered voters hitting the polls. A mere 2,251 residents cast their ballots Saturday, while last year's results showed a total of 4,657.

"I wish more people had taken an active part in the voting process," said Wandell. "I hope this isn't a signal of what next weekend's town meeting will be like."

Rooney said that he had expected this year's decrease in voters because residents were not faced with any controversial ballot questions such as last year's debt exclusion, and because taxes have not increased for citizens.

Fiore also suggested that the absence of contentious issues may have caused this year's turnout slump.

"I think it's unfortunate that more people didn't show up. I had hoped that more people were interested in what was going on in the town, but there were no big issues. It was a nice quiet election," said Fiore.

Nelson cited the town by-law which prohibits candidate's signs from being too close to the roadside as a possible contributing factor to the poor turnout. He also mentioned that he intends to submit a petition to change the town's charter to help bolster future participation.

Zinan suggested that the length of the campaign season be shortened if the voter turnout percentage remains relatively low.

"It's disappointing. You've got five candidates spending a lot of time and money on their campaigns. It's frustrating," he said.

Town still argues Reading Light expense

by ERIN DOWNING

READING - The expenditure of money by the Reading Municipal Light Department's (RMLD) board remains a prominent concern for Wilmington selectmen.

ANNUAL TOWN MEETING

The controversy stems from RMLD's appeal of the Reading Retirement Board's decision to disallow three of the department's employees to change their retirement status, enabling them to retire at age 55 while receiving 80 percent of their salary. Meanwhile, the RMLD board allocated $125,000 for the appeals process and the costs are expected to increase. Wilmington embodies about 60 percent of RMLD's budget and, therefore, is suffering the most from the expenditure.

Disapproving the board's decision to foot the costs of the appeals to rate payers, Wilmington Selectmen James Rooney said, $125,000 is an inappropriate use of the rate payers' money.

Rooney noted his disappointment at RMLD's board meeting April 21 over the lack of the board's representation at a previous selectmen meeting. "A couple of months ago, the Wilmington Board of Selectmen invited them to a meeting and only (RMLD) Board of Directors Chairman Philip Pacino attended," said Rooney. "I consider that an insult when only one member comes."

Town Meeting explained

by STU NEILSON

Town elections are over and now it is time to move on to the next part of the Annual Town Meeting, the actual meeting itself. After the budgetary articles are voted the meeting shifts into a different form, the fish bowl. Articles do not go in sequence but are drawn from a fishbowl.

This keeps voters on their toes. An article of particular interest to a particular group could come up and be voted down before supporters could be rallied from their gardens, thus attendance is higher and articles of lesser popular interest still get a good hearing. This method of choosing which articles was adopted before cellular phones became immensely popular. One can only imagine the scene as article such-and-such was called and every watchdog in every group dashed for the one and only pay phone. Now a days the meeting merely sees the frantic dialing on personal phones

This group (31 - 48) contains 2 zoning change article, 1 conservation article, 4 articles petitioning the sale of town owned land and 6 articles to change zoning of specific parcels of land.

Handicapped parking violation now $100

WILMINGTON - The Commission on Disabilities would like to alert the citizens of Wilmington that the fine for handicapped parking violations is now $100. This fine increase is now in effect.

We are aware that almost everyone in town understands the dangers placed on handicapped individuals who are forced to park in general parking areas (See WCTV's "Behind the Badge"). We know there are those who would never place the handicapped in such peril. Those others, though who plan on a "quick stop" and misuse the specially marked places to park, will find themselves faced with a fine of $100.

We'd also like to thank the people who understand and go to great measures to help protect their less fortunate neighbors and the Wilmington Police Department who have agreed to enforce these laws aggressively.

Please remember that this is not a matter of convenience, but of safety.

It's YOUR Money
by Joyce Brisbois

CONVERT TO A ROTH IRA NOW?

One option in the new IRA lineup is to convert the money in your old tax-deferred IRA into a new, tax-free Roth IRA. You'd have to pay taxes on the funds you move, but there would be no 10 percent penalty for moving the money before you're 59 1/2. Is it a good idea? The answer is a firm maybe.

One advantage to switching over this year is that the tax bite can be spread over the next four years. Take it out in 1999 or later, and taxes are due all at once. But there are income limits: only those with an AGI under $100,000 can convert. That's why it's wise to wait until much later in the year to be sure you qualify.

The big questions are how much tax you have to pay now and how long you could let the money grow tax-free. Young people with limited growth in the IRAs might be wise to switch, but those near retirement might not be able to recoup the tax costs with tax-free earnings before they need to tap into the money.

Need to decide about you IRA options? We'll help with the numbers at

Town meeting etiquette

by STU NEILSON

You may be tempted to attend town meeting on Saturday. Some of you for the very first time. Let me explain how it works. A primer of sorts.

First you will be greeted by various people wanting you to buy items from their charity group. Usually they're O.K. and will let you walk by. Then the politicians who are up for fall election will shake your hand, pressing a bumper sticker or flyer in the other.

Once inside you will need to know what precinct you live in so you can register. If you don't know, the nice clerks at the door will direct you to the correct line.

From there you're on your own. There are a couple of rows in the back reserved for non-voters. They get special badges. Some are reporters. Some are lawyers. Don't sit with them.

The whole scene starts when the moderator gets a report from the clerk that there is a quorum (150 voters) in the hall. They start with a short opening ceremony then on to the budget. This is the time to take your No-Doze.

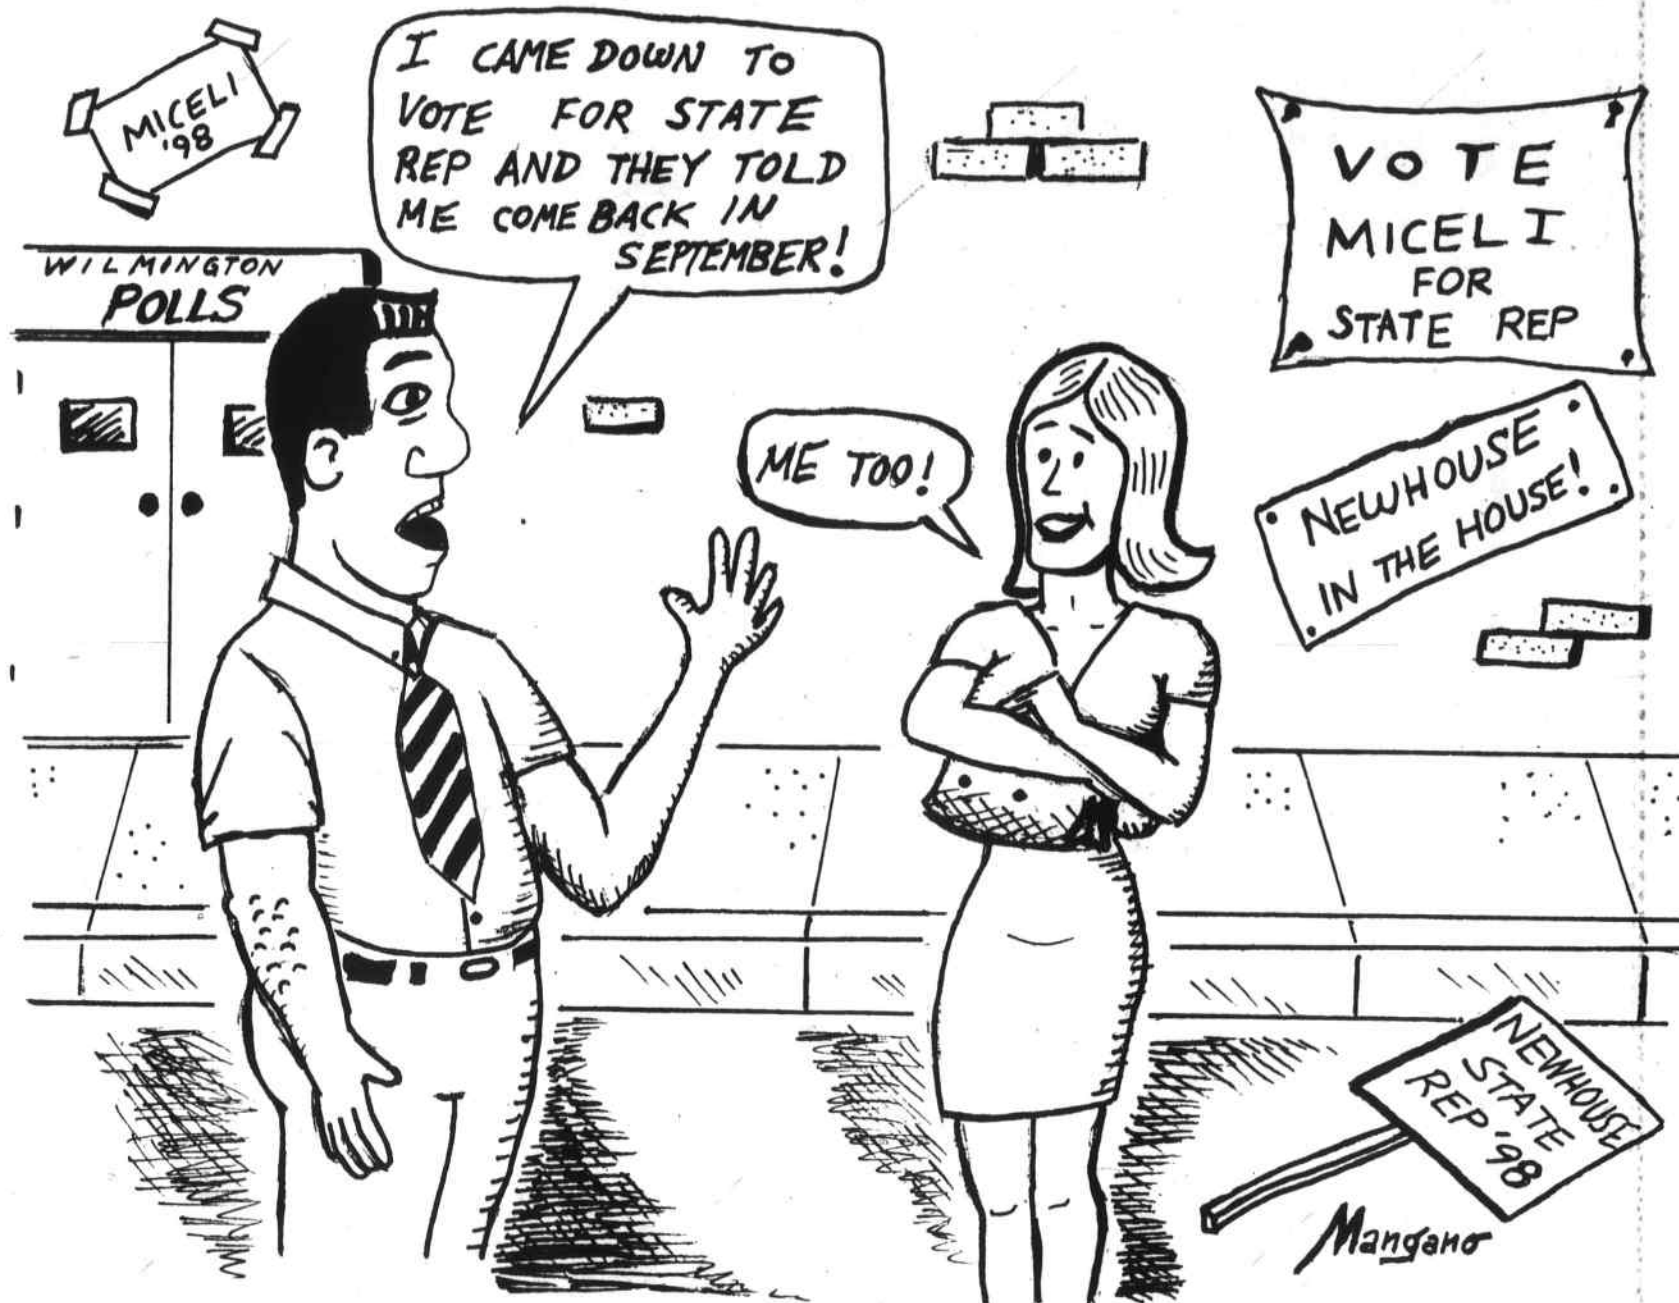

Once the budget is finished they get into the fun part. The articles by petition. These are acted upon by lottery. You never know when that one article you are interested in will be called.

This is audience participation time. You and your fellow voters can rise, take a microphone and let everyone know your opinion on the matter. Please observe the etiquette. Wait your turn, wait until you are recognized by the moderator and then state your name and address clearly. Then make your case, briefly, please.

Fortunately supporters of the Wilmington High School Band have a concession stand in the cafeteria hallway. They sell, for a modest price, coffee, soda, cookies, cupcakes and more coffee.

If the meeting runs late there may be a dinner break. Recently this hasn't been necessary. In years gone by midnight has come and gone before the meeting was over. Now a days it is usually all over by late afternoon.

You'll be able to go home with a feeling of accomplishment, of making a difference. It really is worth while. It's like having your taxes done a week early, but better.

Holocaust remembrance Friday, April 24 in Burlington

BURLINGTON - Temple Shalom Emeth, Burlington, will sponsor a community wide evening of Holocaust remembrance Friday, April 24 beginning at 7:30 p.m. The public is invited to attend this special program.

Several members of Burlington's clergy will be participating in the interfaith service, including Rabbi Susan Abramson from Temple Shalom Emeth, the Rev. Roderick MacDonald from the Presbyterian Church, the Rev. Leonard O'Malley from St. Malachy's Church and the Rev. Beulah Koulouris from St. Mark's Church.

The program will feature speakers from the group One by One, an organization of Jews and Christians whose lives have been directly affected by the Holocaust. They describe themselves as "the children of survivors of Nazi atrocities who grew up in the shadow of our parents' suffering and trauma. We wrestle with the burden of our parents' traumatic past and its influence on our lives as we try to heal the wounds of inhumanity. We are also the descendants of the Third Reich whose parents or grandparents are perpetrators or bystanders in one of the most evil chapters of human history. We struggle with an inheritance of denial, guilt, and shame. As we listen to each other's stories, we learn that we are sensitive to the same issues. Together we seek to bear witness to the reality of the Holocaust."

Speakers will include Deborah Shelkan Remis, whose father Gregor Shelkan survived the brutality of Nazi atrocities, though the rest of his family was killed. She teaches Holocaust studies at Temple B'nai Abraham in Peabody. Remis will be joined by another speaker from One by One, a Christian whose family was involved in Germany during the Holocaust.

Temple Shalom Emeth, located at 16 Lexington St., in Burlington, is a reform synagogue, serving Burlington and neighboring communities. For more information, call 781-272-2351, or visit the temple's website at: uahc.org/ma/tse.

Protection of Shawsheen River subject Stream Team to meet May 4

BILLERICA - Everyone is welcome to join Stream Team volunteers from Wilmington, Tewksbury, and Billerica as they meet to discuss ways to protect and restore habitat and water quality in the central section of Shawsheen River Watershed. The "River Action" session will be Monday, May 4, at 7 p.m., at Billerica Town Hall auditorium.

Local officials, Board of Health, and the conservation commission in all three towns will be invited to expedite the action process.

"This is a great time to join the team, determine problems, and discuss how to solve them," said Volunteer Coordinator, Alicia Lehrer. The local Stream Teams need more members, as volunteer monitoring season approaches. "It only requires your interest and a little time."

After discussing local concerns, Stream Team members will talk about collecting data on known trouble spots, and identifying the existing water and shoreline uses along the Shawsheen River and its tributaries, streams, and ponds.

Other topics may include industrial and commercial activity near waterways, and the fish and wildlife habitat. Later in the season, stream team members may monitor ecological health and diversity.

In previous years, river action discussions included impact of old landfills on Content Brook and Sutton Brook. Team members reported erosion and tree blockage on the Shawsheen River near Route 129. In a wetland area, they found large debris including asphalt rubble, car parts, and propane tanks. They found strong organic waste odors near where Strong Water Brook meets the Shawsheen River, while rusty colored muck swirled in the waters of Governor Fuller Brook.

Actions that stream team members have taken include bringing people to the river for canoe races, canoe trips, water-line cleanups, scenic picnics, and other fun events.

Explaining the Shawsheen mission, Curt Laffin of MRWC said, "The team's mission is to work together as individuals, communities, agencies and businesses, to understand and value the Shawsheen River Watershed."

"We need to act collectively to protect and restore aquatic ecosystems," said Laffin. "Our goal is a protected and restored Shawsheen River watershed that benefits both people and the natural environment."

Letters to the Editor

Thanks to Bradford, Burns & Hooper

Dear Editor:

In recognition of Volunteer Week (April 19-25), the Serving the Health Information Needs of Elders (SHINE) Program at Minuteman Home Care and the Council on Aging would like to applaud the excellent work of local counselors Milt Bradford, Claire Burns, and Barbara Hooper.

These counselors have completed extensive training and recertification courses, and have been officially certified by the Massachusetts Executive Office of Elder Affairs to counsel seniors about their health insurance for two more years.

We would like to publicly thank Mr. Bradford, Ms. Burns and Ms. Hooper for the volunteer hours of counseling, research and phone calls over the past year which helped many elders sort through confusing health insurance options, financial and billing concerns. We now that as the Medicare develops its Part C options in the fall, the counselors will be more in demand so we want to thank them in advance for their dedication.

Yours truly,
Cynthia J. Phillips
Regional SHINE Coordinator

Buying recycled products biggest part of recycling

Dear Editor:

In order to prevent being buried or poisoned by our trash, we must become avid recyclers. In order to keep recycling working, we must create and maintain markets for products made from recycled materials. "Buying Recycled" is a crucial part of recycling because the people who collect our plastic, glass, newspapers, etc. will not be able to continue to collect these things if they have no place to sell them.

Federal, State and many local governments have adopted Buy Recycled policies. The general public needs to follow suit and create a strong demand for recycled products. We need to read product labels carefully to determine the percentage of recycled material in each product. If we buy more products with recycled content, manufacturers will continue to make them and will expand to make even more of these products. Recently, the quality of these environmentally preferable products has improved greatly and in many cases, the price has become competitive.

There are thousands of recycled-content products. Here are just a few examples: paper products (toilet paper, facial tissues, greeting cards, copier and printer paper, etc.), office equipment and supplies (toner cartridges, bulletin boards, pencils, etc.), plastic bottled (laundry detergent, shampoo, etc.), clothing, carpeting, wallpaper, steel appliances and many more. Read the labels!

For more information on household purchasing of recycled content products, call MassPIRG at 617-292-4800. For more general information about recycling, visit the Massachusetts Recycles Day web page at www.massrecyclesday.org.

Lowell Street sewer project not needed

Dear Editor:

I have to admit at being surprised to see the Lowell Street sewer project back in the Town Meeting warrants. After having been overwhelmingly defeated in its original form and in this shortened form, I would have assumed the politicians got the message that the citizens of the Lowell Street area do not want nor need sewer in this part of town!

The primary purpose of introducing sewer service in this area is to allow the overdevelopment of Lowell Street with additional strip malls, restaurants (McDonald's for sure), as well as apartment buildings and higher density office parks.

The claim is that this area is "under development and erratically zoned" and sewer service would remedy this situation. Yet, as anyone who has to travel Lowell Street can readily see, the traffic is horrendous. We certainly do not need further or denser business development of the area, but rather adequate traffic management.

I realize that last year was an exception to the usual town meeting in that issues were being decided on that affected all families in Wilmington. This year's meeting is shaping to be the 'business as usual' town meeting where the contractors and business interests usually get their way, but I hope that the ordinary citizens realize that they really need to take control of the meetings every year or the quality of life in Wilmington will suffer.

Sincerely,
Russell MacDonald

Water tops the list of concerns

Subdivision off Rt 133 would have 14 homes

by ERIN DOWNING

TEWKSBURY - The developers for a proposed 14 home subdivision on Route 133 went before the Conservation Commission on April 15 to discuss a Notice of Intent filed by the applicant. But, neighbors wanted to address an ongoing concern about water.

Residents on Greenmeadow Drive fear that two proposed detention basins located near their property will increase their water problems. "I'm just concerned about our property," voiced a Greenmeadow Drive resident.

In an attempt to alleviate the neighbors' fears, Attorney Richard O'Neill confirmed that they are not adding water to the site. "We'll be bringing water away from the backyard of the houses and directing it towards the pond then to Route 495," said O'Neill.

Developers for Sherrie Lane provided the Planning Board on April 13 with brochures on two new detention areas they are constructing, which they believe will limit the water drainage to the neighbors' property. "The (detention areas) are designed to hold that water for a longer period of time and dispense it at a slower rate," said William Bergeron from Hayes Engineering at the Planning Board meeting.

Commission member Vincent Spada stated that he was also concerned about the location of the detention basins, but an elevation in the land shows that water will not flow onto the residents' property.

After listening to the Commission's discussion, a Greenmeadow Drive resident said he had no problem with the plan as long as everything is legal and perfected. "We have a water problem now and I wanted to make sure the basins hold everything."

The developers also described a wetland crossing that will be done on the property. A total of approximately 2,465 feet of bordering vegetated wetland is proposed to be altered, according to a Notice of Intent filed by applicant Presidential Development in Wilmington.

Bergeron said that the plan provides three wetland replacement sites equal to that being lost, totaling approximately 3,300 square feet. The replacement areas propose to keep the hydraulic connection to the same body of water.

The Notice of Intent lists specific steps that will be taken during the procedure. The steps include: Establishing an erosion control barrier, such as hay bales or silt fence between the bordering vegetated wetland and the replacement area to serve as a limit of work and to prevent sediments from inadvertently encroaching upon wetland. Any wetland plants existing within the replicated area shall be removed prior to excavation and saved. All wetland vegetation existing within the wetland will be carefully removed and stored in a shady place. Soil within the wetland to be lost shall be removed and transferred to the excavated replicated area. They also intend to spread the replicated area with wetland seed mix.

Developer Peter DeGennaro is proposing to build 13 colonial homes on a about 16 acres of land near the Andover line. At the Planning Board meeting, he said the 3,000 square foot single family homes will sell for $350,000 to $450,000. One home is already built and occupied on the site.

The Commission has approved the plan, but has not issued on a decision yet.

Benefits counselors available to seniors

BURLINGTON - Understanding the many and frequently complex health insurance options available to older persons can be an overwhelming challenge.

In Massachusetts, elders can obtain information, counseling and assistance regarding health benefits options through a statewide network of trained volunteer health benefit counselors.

The Serving Health Information Needs of Elders (SHINE) Program trains and certifies volunteer counselors to assist elders in understanding their individual health insurance needs, options available to them and their rights under Medicare. Counselors also help elders review HMOs, Medicare Supplement Insurance plans and public benefits information.

Counselors help with claims filing and billing problems and provide information on Supplemental Security Income (SSI), Long-Term Care Insurance and many other health benefits options.

The Minuteman SHINE Program has announced an opportunity for area residents to become volunteer health benefits counselors. In late spring the 32 hour training course will be conducted in Burlington to train volunteers to assist elders in nearby towns. For more information about the SHINE Program or volunteer opportunities, call Cynthia Phillips at 781-272-7177 or 978-263-8720.

SHINE is a state-wide program to ensure that elders have access to accurate, unbiased information, counseling and assistance regarding health insurance and health benefit options.

Seniors north of Boston may find out about becoming a trained certified volunteer counselor by calling Minuteman Home Care at 781-272-7177 or 978-263-8720. Bi-lingual and multi-cultural seniors are encouraged to call.

It was a very jazzy evening

by COLLEEN MURPHY

WILMINGTON - On April 8, 1998, the Wilmington High School Jazz Band held its annual Pops Concert. The concert not only consisted of the WHS Jazz Band under the direction of Ms. Barbara Mette, but also consisted of the Junior Jazz Band and the Junior, Junior Jazz Band under the direction of Ms. Anita Dilulio.

The Junior Jazz Band is a group of musicians from the North and the West Intermediate Schools that got together one afternoon a week and learned jazz music. This prepares these musicians to participate in the WHS Jazz Band when they get into high school. The Junior, Junior Jazz Band is a group of musicians from the Shawsheen, Woburn Street and Wildwood Elementary Schools that meets once a week and learns jazz rhythms, and music. This also prepares these young musicians for a future in Jazz Band. Ms. Dilulio worked very hard to prepare these students for the concert, and they were a total success.

The WHS Jazz Band played a variety of songs this year, and many of those songs had featured soloists. In set one the Jazz Band offered "Beyond the Sea" featuring tenor saxophone solo by Colleen Murphy. They also played "Just What the Doctor Ordered," featuring a drum solo by Cheryl Lee, and "Stolen Moments," which featured a tenor sax solo by Rob Garrett.

In set two the band played "Cruella de Vil" featuring an alto sax solo by Mary Sarich, and a trumpet solo by Catherine Normoyle, "Go the Distance" featuring an alto sax solo by Kathlene Haynes, and "The Gospel Truth" featuring alto sax solo by Chris Murray, and trumpet solo by Cheryl Lecsse. In set three the band played "Devil with a Blue Dress" featuring a tenor sax solo by Andy Hackett and a trombone solo by Shaun Neville, "Witchcraft," and "Evil Ways" featuring a trumpet solo by Sabrina Shattuck, and a trombone solo by Paul Fugere.

In set four the jazz band rendered "Tuxedo Junction" featuring an alto sax solo by Christie Ross and a trumpet solo by David Ward, "I'm Beginning to see the Light" featuring a trombone solo by Sarah McMahon and a bari-sax solo by Michelle Carvalho, "Maputo" featuring a tenor sax solo by Chris Calway, and "Would I Lie to You" featuring guitar soloist Jon Contrada.

This year the Jazz Band includes: on trumpet, Justin Corrigan, Michelle Lemos, Bethany Carr, Catherine Normoyle, Cheryl Lecsse, Sabrina Shattuck, Tim Smith and David Ward.

Jon Bamberg, Jon Jamerson, Shaun Neville, Stephanie Anderson, Paul Fugere, and Sarah McMahon, make up the trombone section.

The saxophone section includes: Andy Hackett, Colleen Murphy, Chris Murray, Kathlene Haynes, Mary Sarich, Christie Ross, Chris Calway, Rob Garrett, and Michelle Carvalho. On guitar are Beth Capotasto, Jon Contrada, and Danielle McGarry; while Kevin Bornoit, Kenny Chin, and Cheryl Lee make up the percussion section. On piano is Robin Diorio and on vibraphones is Dave Merry.

There were also vocal solos the night of the Jazz Band Concert. The first vocal solo was rendered by Kelly Tavares. Kelly sang "Looking In," which was originally recorded by Mariah Carey. There was a vocal trio following Kelly by Beth Carr, Jessica Kitteredge and Joshua Saubrier. They sang "How do I Live" recorded by LeAnn Rimes and Trisha Yearwood. The vocal solos were very well done, and added to the excitement of the evening.

This year the Jazz Band Concert was held in the Herbert C. Barrows Auditorium at Wilmington High School. In the past the concert has been held at the West Intermediate School. Ms. Mette was a little nervous about the change of location because she was afraid it would affect the excitement of the concert. At the West the audience is closer to the musicians than at the high school and everyone gets really into the concert. There was no need for worry, the bands and singers made the evening very exciting for all. The performers are not only musicians, but entertainers as well. Props are used to liven up the show and to add humor. This year was certainly a success.

The Jazz Band would like to thank Ms. Mette, Ms. Dilulio, and Mrs. Stolar for all their time and effort in preparing for the concert. It surely could not have been done without them. Tryouts for next year's Jazz Band will be held Wednesday, May 6. Good luck to all the musicians!!!

Paul Fugere will major in history and criminal justice

by MIKE VITALE

WILMINGTON - This week's student profile belongs to a superb student who has worked hard over the years to achieve his goals. Paul Fugere has a full schedule, is involved in several activities, is a Wildcat athlete, and has received a number of awards for his dedication.

Paul is ranked 21 of 159 in the Class of 1998. He just received notification that he qualified for the National Honor Society, which is an honor that only few can say they receive. National Honor members must have a steady 88 average and do hours of community service as well as prove that they are worthy of being inducted. This year Paul is taking Advanced Placement English, Math, Sociology, Criminal Justice, Jazz Band, Concert Marching Band, and Honors Anatomy and Physiology.

When asked about a special teacher, Paul had several. "Ms. (Barbara) Mette stands out as special because she gave me a chance to prove myself in a foreign subject like music was to me." Ms. Mette is his Jazz and Concert Band teacher. "Incidentally, the Jazz Band recently put on a concert where Paul shined doing a trombone solo to the song "Evil Ways" by John Berry.

"Miss (Linda) Peters was always very supportive and was always there when I needed her," said Paul. Paul had Miss Peters for two years of math: Algebra and Geometry. "Ms. (Judith) Nowak always boosted my self image and encouraged me to strive," said Paul. Ms. Nowak has been Paul's Spanish teacher in the past.

Paul is a member of the Wildcat Newspaper staff, an invaluable member to the Student Council where he has been doing a lot of work including going to Wilmington Woods Nursing Home to spend time with the elders. Paul was also elected to be the Public Relations officer for Students Against Drunk Driving. Paul has been playing for the Wildcat Baseball team for four years, where he has pitched. He has also played Basketball and Winter Track in the past.

Paul is a member of Bread and Roses: helping to feed the homeless. He has also taken part in the Band Food Drives and he is a Trombone Tutor and Mentor for younger students. Paul has also been employed at Gibbs Oil Company for the past year where he works roughly 20 hours a week.

Paul has received several awards. He was given an Academic Excellence Award in Honors US History for the highest grade in the class. He got Honorable Mention at the last Science Fair and received a Science Achievement Award. He is included in the "Who's Who Among American High School Students." Paul also received the Northeast Baseball League All Star for his outstanding athletic abilities.

Next year Paul will be attending Norwich University in Vermont as a Cadet. He will be majoring in History and Criminal Justice. "US History is my favorite subject, and I am very interested in the law," Paul said. Paul also received a three year Army ROTC Advanced Designee Scholarship, in which he receives up to $16,000 for tuition at the school of his choice. Some may say Paul is lucky, but it was his hard work and dedication that rewarded him.

Paul would like to give special thanks to Lawrence Maggio, his US History teacher. He also wants to thank his longtime girlfriend, Sara McMahan, for her longtime support. And he wishes to express his gratitude for his parents, Sue and Phil Fugere. "I couldn't have done anything without their love, thank you."

This land is currently zoned residential and is located adjacent to the town's well fields. Re-zoning would allow more houses to be built in the area.

Article 47: asks that an extension to Marion St. ending on Chestnut St. be accepted as a town way, however it will be withdrawn at the meeting.

Article 48: asks that Taft Rd. be accepted as a town way.

It's 2 a.m. and these men are smiling! Wilmington Minutemen Lt. Marshall Bishop and Capt. Frank Curley lead the company on the annual march to meet the Redcoats at Concord on Saturday evening (really Sunday morning). For more than two decades the men have marched the 13 miles to Miriam's Corner, where the running battle back to Boston started. Two hundred twenty three years ago Wilmington men joined in the fracas with other companies as they took shots from behind trees and walls as the British Regulars retreated after a long march to Concord.

The medals on their chests are for completing the march in previous years. Most of the company falls out at the Rt. 62 bridge over the railroad tracks and returns home to their warm, cozy beds. Completing the march this year were Sgt. Bill Hitchcock and Pvt. Steve Leet and camp followers Kelly Leet, Erin Harrington and Janet Shine. (photo by Kelly Leet)

Light expense

(CAB) is also concerned about the RMLD board's decision to fund the legal expenses for the three employees. The CAB is designed to act as a communication vehicle between the towns and the board, reviewing the budget and rates.

Wilmington's CAB representatives are Public Buildings Superintendent Roger Lessard and Chamber of Commerce President Kenneth Mastrullo.

Rooney said that he supports the CAB. "These people (Lessard and Mastrullo) have been knocking their heads against the wall with no respect at all," said Rooney.

Addressing the board, Rooney said that people should have much more say in what the board does. "I think we should have a person on the board here to represent rate payers," said Rooney after the meeting.

With his recent reelection to serve three more years on the board of selectmen, Rooney said that he will pursue this issue and that they are only "scraping the tip of the iceberg."

To the voters of our town who have given us the opportunity to continue on our respective boards for the next three years, thank you so much.

It truly has been an honor and a privilege to be on our boards and your confidence in us that we will continue to serve as your representatives is gratifying.

To our daughters, our families and our friends, there are no words to tell you how very much all your hard work meant to us, you all hold special places in our hearts.

Low turnout for election

Some voters said that Saturday's seasonably warm weather and the start of the schools' April vacation may be to blame for the lack of interest. Others said that residents may just be content with the current state of town government and the status of the several town projects.

"There's lots of opinions of what the reasons may be," said Town Clerk Kathleen Scanlon. "Generally, I think that the town is being run well. Fiscally, I think people are pleased. I don't think it's one thing, but a combination of those things."

In the school committee election, Stephen Peterson came out on top with a total of 1,463 votes, followed by winners Suzanne Spiras Rooney and Joan Duffy, with 1,335 and 948 votes respectively. Judson Miller, who resigned from the committee last year, lost the election with a total of 838 votes.

"It's been a long and exciting day," said Peterson. "Enough people in Wilmington had the confidence in me to vote for me. I need to carry that confidence over the next four years. The people that did turn out to vote deserve a lot of credit."

Suzanne Rooney said that she was thrilled to rejoin the committee after serving a previous one-year term.

"It's a good working committee and I'll continue to be accessible and make myself available to listen to the parent's concerns," she said.

In other races, Paul Logan was re-elected to the Redevelopment Authority with 1,369 votes to clinch the five-year seat, and Christopher Barry received 1,217 votes to beat Quincy Vale's 362 votes for the single-year seat. Robert DiPasquale got 1,525 votes to win the uncontested five-year term on the Housing Authority, and Dorothy Butler was re-elected to a four-year term with 1,480 votes. For the Shawsheen Valley Technical School Committee, Robert Peterson was re-elected to a three-year seat with 1,751 votes.

Wilmington Library Notes

Winning poems
WILMINGTON - The library's poetry contest inspired many residents to write a poem about Wilmington. Thank you to the following judges who had the difficult task of selecting the winning poems - Mary Deislinger, Chairman of the Board of Library Trustees, Barbara Michaud, Assistant Children's Librarian and Betsy Woods, a member of the Friends of the Library.

In the adult/high school category, the winning poem was written by Julie Sbraccia-Manos.

Reflections
 There's a special spot not far from home,
 They call it Silver Lake
 I go there when it's empty
 When I need a rest or break.

I swim there in the evening
 Or sit and watch the ducks
 I've met an angel and a heron
 Some say that it's just luck.

And then there is the library
 Once inside I leave my world
 There's a book for every feeling
 As the magic is unfurled.

For whatever I am needing
 At that moment in my day
 Something leads me to the perfect book
 To help me on my way.

And though I'm not a "townie"
 Who's lived here all my days
 I've found magic herein Wilmington
 In some very special ways

In the middle school category, the winning poem was written by Marissa Bortone, West Intermediate School, Grade six.

Bursts of Light
 Bursts of light
 In the night sky.
 You can come to see them
 On the Fourth of July.

People march into Wilmington
 On Independence Day
 To see the fireworks,
 Oh, what a great display!

They set up their blankets
 Early in the morn.
 They eat delicious meals
 Of chicken and corn.

When night time comes,
 Just about nine,
 I sit on the common
 With neighbors of mine.

On the Fourth of July,
 It's just the fireworks and me.
 They fill my day
 With happiness and glee!

In the elementary school category, the winning poem was written by Kelly Christine Crosby, Wildwood Elementary School, grade five.

The 4th of July
 The 4th of July is the place to be,
 On Wilmington Common the fun is for free.
 The picnics are great.
 The carnival is fun.
 The 4th of July has just begun.
 We meet neighbors and friends from all over town
 To run three legged races and watch the doll carriages go round.
 There are animals to pat,
 Races to run.
 Everyone has a lot of fun.
 At the end of the day we all gather round
 To watch the red, white, and blue fireworks light up the town.

The winning poems will be read at the Poetry Reading on Thursday, April 16 and the prizes will be awarded by the Friends of the Library.

All the poems that were entered are in a book at the main circulation desk. Some of the poems are posted on the bulletin board in the front lobby.

National library week
 National Library Week, April 19 to April 25, is time to celebrate the constantly evolving American library and remember that the public library is where anyone and everyone can go to find the information they need, whether in a book or on a computer.

The Wilmington Board of Selectmen endorsed the following proclamation on April 13th.

Lost Chuck
 Large gray male cat with white nose and white paws. Lost on the night of April 15 on Russell Road, Wilmington. Any information please call 657-8871

National Library Week Proclamation

Whereas, libraries connect children and adults with books, computers and other resources they need to live, learn and prosper in a global society;

Whereas, libraries provide preschool story hour, literacy and many other programs to encourage Americans to read;

Whereas, libraries provide computer and other new technology so that students, businesses, and researchers have access to global information resources;

Whereas, libraries educate and promote understanding of diverse cultures in our nation and around the world;

Whereas, libraries support a literate, productive, and globally competitive nation;

Whereas, librarians are leaders in ensuring that all Americans have access to new information technology and instructing them in its use;

Whereas, libraries nationwide are celebrating National Library Week.

Now, therefore, be it resolved that I, Daniel Wandell, Chairman of Selectmen, Wilmington, MA, proclaim April 19-25, 1998, National Library Week in Wilmington and urge all children and adults to visit their library.

Arts Council gift

Eyes on owls

Who's watching you? Find out on Saturday, May 2 at 1 a.m. when "Eyes on Owls," a live owl program for preschoolers ages two and a half to five, will be presented. All who attend are in for an educational treat with close-up views of these secretive birds of prey. Naturalist Marcia Wilson will present "Who's Watching You? Owls of New England."

Wilson introduces all 12 species of owls that have been found in New England with a slide show of photos by well known wildlife photographer Mark Wilson, Marcia's husband. Marcia imitates the owls' calls herself, paying special attention to the more common owls that we might encounter in our area.

After a hooting lesson, Marcia will take out the live owls one at a time. With each owl perched securely on her glove, she will walk around the room. The audience will get to meet three or more owls. There will be plenty of time for close-up views and plenty of questions. Each owl has a permanent disability which keeps it from surviving on its own in the wild, and are legally permitted for use in environmental educational programs.

Which owl eats skunks? Can a little detective work reveal owls living near you? What do owl pellets tell us about an owl's wild food and the web of life? How can we protect owls and their natural habitats? Wilson explores these questions and more during this interactive program.

Free tickets for this event, which is made possible through the "Community Partnerships for Children" grant funded by the Massachusetts Department of Education, will be made available starting April 23, and may be reserved by calling the Children's Room at 658-2967.

Help for consumers in home improvement disputes

by Daniel A. Grabauskas

BOSTON - Each year, homeowners spend millions of dollars on home renovations. Whether you are interested in building an addition on your home, replacing your roof or windows or just putting on a new coat of paint - one thing is certain - you will need to hire a contractor.

In 1992, the Weld/Cellucci Administration enacted the Home Improvement Contractor (HIC) law. The HIC law was created to protect consumers and to regulate the practices of contractors in Massachusetts.

The HIC Advisory Group helps oversee the enforcement of the law. It is comprised of staff from the Office of Consumer Affairs, the Board of Building Regulations and Standards (BBRS), the Attorney General's office and industry representatives.

The law established an arbitration program for resolving disputes between homeowners and contractors. It also created a Guaranty Fund to compensate consumers, up to $10,000, for unpaid judgments against their registered contractor. The Guaranty Fund is comprised of the registration fees paid by the contractors. It is important to know that consumers can apply to the Guaranty Fund, only if they have hired a registered contractor.

While the majority of contractors are legitimate, the Office of Consumer Affairs has paid out approximately $800,000 in claims to 200 consumers over the past several years who fell prey to unscrupulous contractors. Once a claim is paid by the fund to the consumer, it is the responsibility of the contractor to reimburse the fund. Currently, the fund has over $2 million available to reimburse consumers who may have been the victim of shoddy workmanship or unscrupulous business practices by a contractor.

The Office of Consumer Affairs offers the following advice when embarking on a home improvement project.

Before you begin a project:
 Be sure to plan carefully before investing money into home improvement projects.

Think about the specific design you want (consult an architect or designer if necessary) and decide on a budget.

Think about the materials you want to use. Visit home improvement centers, read magazines featuring distinctive homed designs, or talk to others who have completed similar renovations.

Clearly describe the work you want done in a specification sheet and/or floor plan for potential contractors. When all contractors who bid on the job work from the same design description, there is more likely to be a complete and accurate bidding process.

Contact a professional building industry association for advice on the home improvement process, including the selection of a contractor.

Avoid door-to-door solicitations or high pressure sales tactics. Reputable contractors generally do not have to solicit business by knocking on your door or by using high pressure sales tactics to close a deal.

Before you hire a contractor
 Selecting a contractor is the most important part of the home improvement process. You should always:

Interview at least three contractors and request a written estimate. Check with the Office of Consumer Affairs to make sure the workers you hire are currently registered with the state.

If the contractor or subcontractor is not registered, you will not be protected by the Home Improvement law. There may, however, be other remedies available to you through the court system.

There are some exceptions to the registration requirement. Contractors who do not need to be registered include: installers or providers of central heating and air conditioning, energy conservation devices, landscaping, interior painting, wall and floor coverings, fencing, freestanding masonry walls, above ground pools (in-ground pools are covered), shutters, awnings, patios, driveways, and certain licensed professionals such as, architects, electricians and plumbers who provide services that are exclusively within the scope of their profession. Additionally, some part-time and small jobs (under $500) contractors do not need to be registered.

Before you sign a contract

Always ask for a detailed written contract even for small projects. It will protect you and help ensure that you and the contractor understand the scope of the job and the price.

State law requires home improvement contracts over $1,000 be in writing. If contractors violate this provision, their registration may be suspended or revoked and they can be fined or face criminal prosecution.

Be sure the contract contains:
 * the total price of the work;
 * the payment schedule (by law, the contractor can not collect more than one-third of the cost of the contract in advance, unless special order materials are needed;

* a provision for changes or extras;
 * a detailed list of specifications/materials;
 * start and completion dates;
 * a copy of the contractor's insurance coverage;
 * other details particular to your job.

Also, be sure the contractor obtains the building permit. If you apply for the permit, you may not be eligible for compensation by the Guaranty Fund.

If you are financing your home improvements, be aware that contractors are not allowed to lend you the money, or act in association with any lending institution if the loan is secured by a mortgage on your home. Similarly, a contractor cannot offer financing with a specific lender if your home is used as collateral. You have the right to choose any lender who is willing to negotiate your loan. Get a cost estimate from the contractor for the work that needs to be done and then shop around for the best financing option.

Home improvement projects can be overwhelming and expensive. Doing your homework ahead of time can prove to be an invaluable investment.

The Office of Consumer Affairs is available to assist consumers who plan on renovating, want to check a contractor's registration or has had a problem with a registered contractor can contact our office, toll free at 1-888-283-3757 or on our website at <http://www.consumer.com/consumer>.

Middlesex Canal subject of Carter Lecture, April 30

This year the Carter Lecture Committee has asked Betty M. Bigwood to speak about the Middlesex Canal, one of Wilmington's Historic Treasures. Mrs. Bigwood is a proprietor of the Middlesex Canal Association and has long been interested in the preservation of America's oldest traction canal.

Minuteman Homecare needs board members

WILMINGTON - Minuteman Home Care is looking for board members. If you are interested in the concerns of the elderly, this is a good opportunity to make a difference.

Minuteman Home Care serves the needs of older people and their families in a 16 community region, ranging from Arlington in the east to Harvard in the West. The prime objective of our agency is to provide home care for elders, and others with long term care needs, in order to delay the necessity of their having to enter a nursing home. This is accomplished primarily through a team of case managers who evaluate an elder's need and attempt to fulfill that need by accessing a wide range of in-home services and other community support systems.

Minuteman is largely funded by the state and federal governments and receives private contributions from individuals, corporations, foundations and local community chests.

The Board of Minuteman meets the first Wednesday of every month from 9:15 a.m. to noon. An excellent orientation is provided to new members and ongoing training occurs for the entire board. Members can join special committees depending on their skills and interests; such as service, finance, personnel, fund raising, advocacy, etc.

We need special people who care about their elderly neighbors and who want to be part of developing a comprehensive long term care network in this region.

Those interested in volunteering are urged to call Trish O'Brien at 781-272-7177 or 978-263-8720.

Cemetery frowns on homemade cross

David Labreque is at odds with a cemetery department employee over treatment he claims he received over placement of a wooden cross at the Wildwood cemetery. (Photo by Joseph G. Hakev)

By AMY PETERSON

WILMINGTON - When David Labreque refinished and replaced the hand crafted, five-foot, oak cross on his father's grave at Wilmington's Wildwood Cemetery a few weeks back, he was thankful that the personal memorial was standing in its righteous place once again. It was just one year ago that the cross was stolen from the grave site, only to be found months later on the side of a road.

However, after only brief return, the cross has once again been removed from the site. This time, by a cemetery employee, who according to Labreque, called his mother and informed her that the cross was not allowed at the cemetery and it must be picked up. "My mother was practically in tears," Labreque said, "The person who called her was very rude and instead of calling and discussing the problem with her, he just told her to come down and get it."

Apparently, the cross, hand-crafted by Labreque himself, decorated with an oak heart and personal engravings, was most recently removed because it's structure is in breach of Wildwood Cemetery rules and regulations.

"Before its first removal from the grave, it was there for a while and nobody had a problem with it," Labreque said, "I don't understand. It was not in a place that workers could not get around or anything, there is no grass there."

According to the Superintendent of the Department of Public Works, Don Onusseit, the rules of the Wildwood Cemetery clearly state that such fixtures are not allowed.

Rules and Regulations set forth by the Cemetery Commissioners state: "If any monument or effigy, or any structure or inscription be placed upon any lot which shall be deemed by the Board to be offensive or improper, the said Board will have the right and it shall be its duty to enter upon such lot and remove the offensive object or objects."

Onusseit said, "You have to set some guidelines. We certainly want to be respectful of what people want, but it can not be over done. A cross of that size is one of those things that does not comply with rules and regulations."

Labreque acknowledged the regulation but said the manner in which the matter was approached is the real upsetting part of the ordeal. "I felt this was handled very unprofessionally," he said, "It could have been approached in a different manner."

Labreque plans to file a formal complaint with the Town Manager regarding the cemetery employee. "I feel this has to get reported. This is a place where people want to be at peace, something like this is very upsetting. It has really upset my family," he said.

"Had I known this would happen, I wouldn't have put so much time and effort into the cross. It's one of a kind and very meaningful to my family. I hate to see this happen."

Onusseit said, "We just want to avoid having too many of these type things. If you allow one person to do it, you must allow everyone, and things then become cluttered, which makes ground upkeep difficult."

Wilmington Council of Churches

WILMINGTON - The Wilmington Council of Churches, as part of its outreach into the community, has announced its sponsorship of a bereavement support program in Wilmington.

The program focuses primarily on education about the grief process. The main objective is to reassure people they are experiencing normal grieving. Discussion may also include the spiritual issues associated with grieving such as the search for meaning, guilt, and anger, particularly at God. The council hopes that this group will provide a network of support for people who are going through similar experiences.

People who might benefit from a support group are those who have just experienced the death of a loved one, those who feel "stuck" in their grief, or those who feel they have unresolved grief that may be undermining their physical well being.

Leading the group will be Connie Perlin of Pastoral Conversations of Tewksbury. Mrs. Perlin has a clinical masters in pastoral counseling.

The Council of Churches is underwriting part of the cost of the program. Participants will be asked for a fee of $20 due at the first session. Registration is limited to 10. You may speak to your pastor or priest about the program. Please call Mrs. Perlin at 658-1692 to register or for more information.

Pack 136

Blue and Gold Banquet

by PHIL FENTON

WILMINGTON - Friday, March 27, Cub Scout Pack 136 held its 27th annual Blue and Gold Banquet at Villanova Hall on Middlesex Avenue, Wilmington. The Tiger Cubs and Cub Scouts were treated to an exquisite hot and cold buffet provided by their parents and the Cub Scout Pack Committee. The food was once again both plentiful and excellent. The Boy Scouts of American Legion Boy Scout Troop 136 did an excellent job serving the hot food under the direction of Pattie Fenton.

After dinner, the honored guests were introduced by Committee Chairman Phil Fenton and the 27th annual Charter presentation ceremony was performed by Greater Lowell Council Scout Executive Paul Gendreau. Representing American Legion Post 136 was Mr. Larry Noel who was the Post Commander 27 years ago when Cub Scout Pack was first chartered to American Legion Post 136.

Immediately after the Charter Presentation the Pack Committee awarded many letters of appreciation to former den leaders and those who have gone that extra mile to help make Cub Scout Pack 136 one of the best in Greater Lowell Council.

A surprise presentation of Scouting's 25 year "veteran" award was presented to Pattie Fenton by Scout Executive Paul Gendreau with the help of Cubmaster John Steenbruggen. Mr. Gendreau presented Mrs. Fenton her 25 year "veteran" lapel pin and read a citation from the Massachusetts House of Representatives offered by Representative Jim Miceli (Rep. Miceli had planned to attend, but was unable to due to the death of his mother.)

The citation reads in part: "The Massachusetts House of Representatives offers its sincerest congratulations to: Patricia A. Fenton in recognition of your 25th year of service to the Boy Scouts of America and Cub Scouts of Pack 136, your commitment to this organization as assistant den mother, den mother, den leader coach, member of the Pack Committee and Tiger Cub Coordinator is much appreciated by your family, friends and the entire community - given this 27th day of March, 1998 by Thomas M. Finneran, Speaker of the House, offered by James R. Miceli Vice Chairman." Mrs. Fenton was presented an appreciation certificate from the Cub Scout Pack Committee along with a basket of flowers from the Cub Scouts of Pack 136.

The Pinewood Derby trophies and ribbons were next passed out by Assistant Scoutmaster from Boy Scout Troop 136, Chuck Tremblay. Mr. Tremblay has returned to Cub Scout Pack 136 annually for the past six years to direct the Pinewood Derby racing event, which was held at Villanova Hall February 22, 1998. The following Tigers and Cub Scouts were awarded trophies in their respective divisions:

Tiger Division, 1st Russell MacDonald, 2nd Shawn Powers, 3rd Kyle Cimon; Wolf Division, 1st Scott Benard, 2nd Josh Himmel, 3rd Steven Tello; Bear Division, 1st Nick Underwood, 2nd Brian Abbott, 3rd Danny Evans; Webelos Division, Scott Powers, 2nd Nathan Clapp, 3rd Michael Doucette.

The Bowl-a-Thon trophies were awarded by Committee Chairman Phil Fenton. The following represent the winners of each division: Tiger Division, Matthew Sullivan; Wolf Division, Steven Tello; Bear Division, Daniel Metcalfe; Webelos Division, Andrew Otovic. The Most Money Earned and Collected for the entire Pack was awarded to Andrew Otovic for the second year in a row.

Cubmaster John Steenbruggen opened the Pack meeting and with the assistance of assistant Cubmaster Kevin Marden presented the following awards:

One, white bead for every five family activities and one orange bead for each Tiger Group Activity - Tiger Cubs: Anthony Richards, six white and six orange beads; Matthew Sullivan, eight white and six orange beads; Jarred Hayes, two white and six orange beads; Robert DiPiano, six orange beads; Chris Colosimo, five white and five orange beads; Patrick Treacy, five white and five orange beads; Brendan Anderson, five white and five orange beads; Russell MacDonald, five white and five orange beads; Shawn Powers, five white and five orange beads; Kyle Cimon, five white and five orange beads.

The Rank of Bear was conferred upon Brian Abbott, Michael Bartlett, Sean Crowley, Daniel Metcalfe and Jerry Smith.

A Gold Arrow under the Rank of Bear were also awarded to Sean Crowley, Daniel Metcalfe and Jerry Smith.

A Silver Arrow Point under the Rank of Bear was issued to Daniel Metcalfe and Jerry Smith.

The Craftsman Activity Badge was earned and awarded to the following Webelos of Cub Scout Pack 136: Nathan Clapp, A.J. Zammuto, Andrew Otovic, Danny Tanzella, Steven Richard, Scott Powers, Anthony Dipaolo, Michael Doucette, Eric Steenbruggen, Nicholas Ferrari, Matthew Marden, Brian Martin, Danny Spurr and Lee Nason.

The Showman Activity Badge was earned and awarded to the following Webelos of Cub Scout Pack 136: Nathan Clapp, A.J. Zammuto, Andrew Otovic, Danny Tanzella, Steven Richard, Scott Powers, Anthony Dipaolo, Michael Doucette, Eric Steenbruggen, Nicholas Ferrari, Matthew Marden, Brian Martin, Danny Spurr and Lee Nason.

Finally, the moment that all had been waiting for, Let the Circus Begin. This year's theme of the Blue and Gold Banquet was Circus. Each Den and Tiger group had been planning and rehearsing their skit since the theme was chosen back in November. Puppet shows, Tiger tamers and concessionaires were seen everywhere. The skits were extremely well done and the audience of parents was extremely pleased and impressed as to the quality and work which was exhibited by the boys.

It was quite obvious that the den leaders and group leaders spent hours preparing the costumes, rehearsing the boys and doing their best to provide an outstanding quality of entertainment to make this year's Pack 136 Blue and Gold Banquet a huge success

Senior Topics

WILMINGTON - This past few weeks have been very busy and I want to thank everyone who has helped make it all possible. The support from everyone has been wonderful!

First, I would like to mention some important business. Social Security is issuing a general alert to area residents about misleading ads that purport to sell Social Security information. Thomas M. Abbot, manager of the Lowell Office says, "You will find that the same information is free from the Social Security Office, and it will be accurate."

He further states that the elderly are often targeted by misleading ads, but the ads also target new brides, new parents and people of all ages. Typical scams are those that use "official" letterhead stationary offering to provide a replacement for a lost or stolen Social Security card, have a name changed on a Social Security record or get a Social Security number for a child for a fee. These services not only are free from Social Security, but they generally can be obtained just as easily as they can from the advertiser.

The Social Security Administration responds to consume complaints and inquiries from Congress about mail received by members of the public that appear to be misleading advertising. If it finds that such mailings violate the law, the senders may face prosecution by the Inspector General's Office. Individuals or groups who purposefully mislead the public about Social Security or Medicare services are subject to strong penalties under current legislation. The law considers each piece of mail and individual violation. It states that the use of a disclaimer does not excuse such acts, removes a previous penalty cap amount of $100,000 annually, and requires written authorization from the government for printing and distributing any Social Security material for a fee.

If you believe you have received this or any type of misleading information, you may report it to: Social Security Administration Office of Communications Misleading Advertising P.O. Box 17740 Baltimore, M.D. 21235.

As many people know, our "Ice Cream Event" was a success! Everyone appeared to not only enjoy the ice cream but also the wonderful entertainment by Chet Harnden. This event was in memory of Doris O'Rielly, a resident of Wilmington who recently passed away. She was very active with the Senior Center and A.I.M. Doris' very dear friend, Hope Hathaway gave a donation in Doris' name asking specifically for a special event. Mrs. O'Rielly's children were able to attend and share the fun with everyone and shared a moment about their mother and her activity in the town.

A reminder that next week is the Tea Social at 1:30 p.m. and the town meeting will be held April 25 at 10:30 a.m. Please show your support for the Center. Thank you and hope to see you there.

Terri Marciello

Wilmington Kiwanis Club

Bicycle safety rodeo May 9

With the help of Wilmington Firefighters and Police Officers members of the Wilmington Kiwanis Club will be holding their annual Bicycle Safety rodeo at the Swain School parking lot on Saturday, May 9 from 9 a.m. to 12 noon.

Parents of youngsters are urged to bring their children and their bikes to the rodeo to help instill bicycle safety in their riding habits.

Bicycle injuries are one of the leading causes of pediatric deaths and injuries in the United States. The Kiwanis clubs of New England have been working to stamp out this epidemic for a dozen years.

Realizing that driver education only reaches half the participants in a car / bike accident, they have focused on the children. If a child is a safer rider then there is less chance of an accident.

In co-operation with Police Safety Officer Shelley the club will attend assemblies in all the elementary schools. Officer Shelley will show a video, give a lecture and give away a bike and a helmet at each assembly to a lucky boy and girl. The Wilmington Police Patrolman's Association is donating the bikes.

The rodeo caps the week on Saturday presenting the three most dangerous scenarios and the best way to avoid them to the children in a way the children can understand and then practice. Parents accompany the child so they can reinforce the lesson on their own time.

Wilmington Firefighters Local 1370 is donating bicycles to be given away at the rodeo on Saturday. Any child completing the safety course is eligible. One bike to a boy and one to a girl will be given away.

The Kiwanis Club will be selling and fitting bicycle helmets at a substantial savings. They will also have free refreshments available.

Horse Liniment Eases Arthritis Pain

OCALA, FL -- An ingredient derived from hot peppers that decreases inflammation in racehorse's legs, is now recognized as safe and effective for human use. The ingredient has been formulated into a product called ARTH-Rx® and comes in a strength designed for humans. Researchers are excited and say the formula can relieve arthritis pain for millions.

Developed by the Phillips Gulf Corporation, ARTH-Rx is a breakthrough in the treatment of painful disorders ranging from minor aches and pains to more serious conditions such as arthritis, bursitis, rheumatism, tendonitis, backache and more.

Although the mechanism by which ARTH-Rx works to relieve pain is not totally clear, scientists suggest that pain is relieved because ARTH-Rx intercepts the messenger substance that sends pain signals to the brain. ARTH-Rx is available in a convenient roll-on applicator without a prescription. According to a spokesperson for the company, due to the overwhelming demand for ARTH-Rx, supplies are sometimes limited. ARTH-Rx can also be ordered by calling 1-800-729-8446. ARTH-Rx is available in Wilmington at:

Husband and wife tandem

In sickness, health and marathons too!

BY JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

For many years, Stephen and Jacqueline Patigne have always wanted to participate in a Boston Marathon. Whether it was the lack of time, or allergies and asthma kicking up or even too busy with normal life and their children, the husband and wife tandem have never had the time they needed or wanted.

On Monday, they both realized what they have missed all of these years.

"I thought it was awesome, wonderful, I had a blast," Jacqueline said of 4:34.06 finish in the 102nd annual event along with her close friend Jolene Puglia of North Reading while, Stephen finished ahead of them by 15 minutes. "I'll do it again. It was even better than I expected. It was a great experience. We saw a ton of little kids giving out water or fruit or just trying to touch everyone's hands. [Jolene and I] gave out our jackets to two little children who were calling us athletes so that part was very funny. It was just unbelievable to see all of those people supporting you and giving you high 5's, they made it a lot easier. I really enjoyed it."

Stephen, 38 and Jacqueline 37, both admitted they were a little sore on Tuesday. But that won't keep them from doing it again next year.

"If anything I under-trained," Stephen said. "I'd wished I started sooner instead of really going overboard in the last few weeks. If I started earlier I wouldn't have had to run for three hours on Saturday morning which kinda puts a damper on your weekend. But I had a lot of fun, I didn't finish within four hours that I hoped for, but it was worth it. I would recommend it to anyone. The crowd was something especially around Wellesley College."

Wilmington residents Stephen and Jacqueline Patigne ran their first Boston Marathon together as husband and wife.

The two of them have enjoyed the outdoor life over the years whether it be running, walking or what have you. Two years ago,

Stephen's mother died of skin cancer and the two of them have participated in the Marathon Walk, the same route from Hopkinton to Boylston Street, raising money on her behalf.

"We've done it for two years now and we always had a party afterwards for our 35 member team," Jacqueline said. "This past one I didn't do because we had the party at my house, so I let them do it and I stayed home. We raised over $15,000 last year and that was terrific - it was for a good cause."

So after walking the course in the past, both of them were geared up for the challenge of the infamous Boston Marathon. Jacqueline and Jolene had matching outfits on with black sweats and yellow shirts, looking like "Hornets," and the three of them stayed together for the first four or five miles, keeping a steady pace, until Stephen decided to go at a quicker pace of his own darting in front of them.

"They were always talking," he joked. "But it was nice, they had a nice pace going. But I rather run by myself so that's why I went ahead."

Both of them also said that they were glad they didn't push themselves too hard and that they were able to enjoy themselves after it was over, instead of visiting the Medical Tent like several other thousands did.

"We could've run faster, but we didn't want to over due it, especially with this being vacation week for our kids we didn't want to injure ourselves and not do the parent thing," Jacqueline said.

Through the day, Jacqueline found ways to be amused as well as overwhelmed with some of the things she witnessed.

"I had a guy juggling three balls ahead of me the entire way and then we saw two men light up cigars once they reached the 24 mile mark. We also saw the man who has one leg and was on crutches, he started out at 10:00 a.m. and that was something seeing him go the 26 miles with one leg on crutches."

25 locals take part in Boston Marathon

BY JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

The 102nd Boston Marathon was held on Monday morning and between Wilmington and Tewksbury 25 (registered) locals put on their running shoes and were a part of history. They battled through cramps and muscle spasms as well as the good things like hearing and touching the vociferous crowd that stood along the entire 26 miles from Hopkinton to Kenmore Square. They pumped their arms and moved their legs on a regular pace all morning long, for their enjoyment, to be a part of history as their hard work and training over the last few months had paid off. And when they crossed that finish line, it was all smiles, knowing that they did it, knowing it was all over and knowing they were part of history.

"When I got to the finish line, I was exhausted, but it was so emotional," said 45-year-old Tewksbury native Donna Plachowicz of her first Boston Marathon. "You start to get teary eyed and after I crossed the line the Medical People were there and they saw me crying and they asked me if I needed help. I said no, that I was so happy that I finished, so happy that I did it and so happy that it was over. I haven't stopped smiling yet."

Plachowicz was one of 14 Tewksbury residents to participate. Eleven Wilmington residents took it in as well, and that total was more than it has been over the past few years. There some local veterans in the race like Wilmington's John Engdahl and Andrea Ducey, who were both raising money for Leukemia again, and Tewksbury's Dave Tyler and Stephen Bagley and there were some rookies from Wilmington such as husband and wife tandem Stephen and Jacqueline Patigne and Tewksbury had a husband and wife team as well in Robert and Lisa Maciel. All in all, despite some aches and pains, it was a terrific day for the locals.

"It was a great experience and I would recommend it to anyone," said Stephen Patigne with his wife echoing, "It was a wonderful experience, I had a blast and I'll probably do it again."

Plachowicz also agreed, saying, "In my heart I know that I did it and I was a part of history even though I didn't qualify. I don't know if I will run again, I had such a great time and it was such an experience. If I qualify later on [in another marathon] I'll probably run the Boston one again. But if not, I'm certainly content."

Of the 25 locals, Ducey did the

Picariello too fast early on

BY JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Forty-four year-old Wilmington native Tom Picariello knew he would be sore after running his second Boston Marathon, but he never envisioned what he went through during the race and the days following.

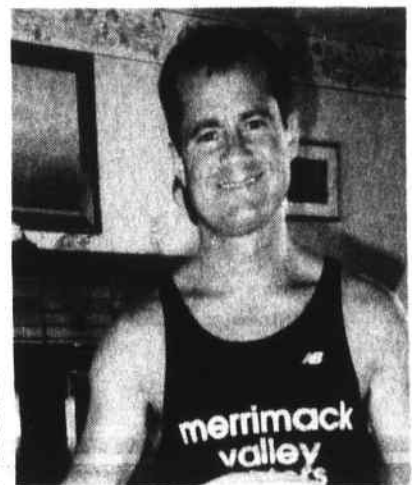

Last year, Picariello ran his first Boston Marathon and did quite well, finishing at the four-and-a-half hour mark. On Monday afternoon, with 14,000 other people from around the world participating in the 102nd annual event on a nice and comfortable running day, Picariello was striding well in front (the average runners that is) through the midway mark, with -- for him -- an amazing time of 1:36.00. He was running seven-and-a-half minute paces. Then, the 21-year retired Hospital Corpsman for the U.S. Military and current Post Office employee, didn't feel as good as he did during those first 13 miles starting from Hopkinton and heading towards Kenmore Square.

"I ran foolishly," he said. "I had no business running as fast as I was. I was cocky. I was coming off a few other races where I did pretty good and I got too ahead of myself. I was really hurting there, I was in a lot of pain, especially in my muscles and I had a lot of blisters forming too. I felt terrible, I wanted to quit, but I couldn't. I wanted to at least attain my goal of finishing."

Nearly 30 years ago, Tom was a teenager at Beverly High School and he ran track. Interestingly enough, he did short distances, excelling in the 50-yard dash, never doing any long distance events. Then about four years ago, his brother Frank had joined the Merrimack Valley Striders Club, a club that recognizes runners and places them in many different kinds of races around the area from 6Ks to 10Ks to 3-milers to marathons. Now thanks to his brother's persistence to join with him into his club, Tom has done three marathons now, beginning with the Ocean State Marathon he ran a while back, finishing under three-and-a-half hours with 30 mile per hour winds and torrential downpours mixed in. Just a short while ago, Tom was named the club's Rookie of the Year. And now after his third 26-mile race, he doesn't know if he'll continue running anymore, well in Boston anyway.

"I just don't know if I'm going to run in another one," he said. "I'm

Boys track team loses to Triton

by Marcella Sweet

Hopes were high throughout the entire meet but, as the score sheets came in from the last few events, the boys were just short of their first win. The running events - with first place finishes in 7 of 10 events, including a sweep in the 800 - accounted for 55 of the team's 67 points.

Wilmington Squirt III's win

April 15, Wednesday at the Forum, the Wilmington Squirt III youth hockey team took on arch rival Wakefield II in the semifinal play-offs. All season Wakefield seemed to have the Cats number taking the series three games out of four.

To make matters worse, the locals discovered before game time that goalkeeper Timmy was going to be late. The talk to the players before game time was intense with everyone listening intently. Play hard, play intensely, play desperately, no shots on net and they had a chance.

The game started with Mike Welch taking the net with his regular hockey equipment on. The guys listened well and played their hearts out, by the end of the first period Mike had seen two shots toward the net. Timmy took over in net with two minutes to go in the first, with the score Wilmington 3, Wakefield 0. The boys certainly stepped it up a notch and played excellent hockey.

The job now was to keep them playing at this level, not to let up since the goalie was there. The kids kept playing at the same intensity and ended up winning 7-1, the stats.

Jason Buckley, David Griffen, Dan Tobin, Billy Schultes, Charlie

Broussard, Mark Pickett and Nick Yeomelakis putting the puck in the twines. Justin Roberts and Mike Welch assisted on their linemate's goal. Albert Fiorenza, Donny Heenan, Russell Grant and Eric Svensson played superb defense in front of goalie Timmy Anderson who made a couple fantastic saves.

This was probably one of the best games the Cats have played and they couldn't have picked a better game to do it in under the circumstances. Every player contributed and everyone played as a team, fantastic games, one more to go, the finals. Go Cats!

Thanks Casa di Fior for your sponsorship!

Championship game

Sunday, April 19 at 1 p.m., Wilmington Squirt III's took on N.H. East II in the Valley League championship game. With the season series being tied at two wins apiece an even, fast paced game was expected. In the locker room before ice time, game talk transpired, after a few minutes it was obvious the players were up for the game, not much else was needed to be said.

The game started with the Cats flying, all cylinders seemed to be firing again. Here are the stats for the game:

Mark Pickett, three goals, "hat trick;" Billy Schultes, two goals, Mike Welch, Charlie Broussard, Justin Roberts, Dave Griffen and Dan Tobin all lit the lamp for the Cats. Nick Yeomelakis and Jason Buckley were both instrumental in setting up several of these goals!

Russell Grant, Doony Heenan, Albert Fiorenza and Eric Svensson were playing superb defense, setting up many breakouts, while taking care of business in the Cats end. Timmy Anderson layed a great game between the pipes for Wilmington, stopping quite a few labeled shots at critical times during the game.

The Cats took it to N.H. early and every time, as expected, they came back to make it a good game. In the third with the score 5-2, Cats, Wilmington slacked off! A few words on the bench and what was at stake took care of the early pre-celebration win, after N.H. knocked in a couple. The Cats as a team roared back and backchecked, forechecked and again made some excellent passes throughout to put it away!

Fantastic play by the Wilmington Squirt III's who took first place in the Valley League, in their division and took the championship game. Best of luck next year to all the players from the coaches; you had one heck of a season!!

Thanks again, Casa di Fior, the parents and fans for your support throughout the year. Until next season, enjoy!

Wildcat softball team blanks Ipswich; A.S.A softball meeting

The Wilmington High girls softball team had an interesting week. They lost their first game of the season last Wednesday against North Reading on an error.

Thereafter, there next two regular scheduled games were postponed with the first one from last Friday, moved to Tuesday against Ipswich. Wilmington defeated them with ease 12-0 behind the strong pitching from freshman Kaitlyn Sughrue. ## Tewksbury Bantam III's busy

Tuesday night's game at MVF Rink was to decide which team would move on for the Merrimack Valley Hockey League finals. This was a tight fought contest between Tewksbury Bantam III and NH East II to see who would move onto the finals.

Tewksbury took an early lead, but NH East came right back. Tewksbury went on top in the second period and NH East tied the game early in the third, but Tewksbury took over late, on four unanswered goals and beat NH East 7-3, to take the semifinals for the Merrimack Valley Hockey League.

In the first period the game was off to a fast start as both teams played good solid defense and the goalies were spectacular. Tewksbury's Adam Butland scored at 7:51 on a pinpoint pass from Erin Sweet, the lead didn't hold up for long, as NH East's Heather Jackson scored at 7:02, unassisted. Both sides seem to dig in as the checking and end to end skating was fast paced, but at 5:10 Tewksbury's Mike Beatrice scored on some nifty passing by Jeff Surette and Kevin Zimmerman. When the period finally wore down Tewksbury was on top, 2-1.

In the second period both teams brought their game up a couple of notches and again it was solid checking and good end to end skating but the defenses had hardened. Tewksbury's Bobby Giasullo scored at 4:01 on a perfect bullet pass from Ricky Reid. As the period was winding down NH East's Derek Lighthall scored off accurate passing by Jerry Smoyer and Paul Koenig at :42. When the period buzzer sounded Tewksbury was on top by one, 3-2.

In the third period things really tightened up as NH East's Clark Flint scored at 11:28 off a Heather Jackson pass. With the game all tied up the pressure was on Tewksbury, and they didn't take long to answer as they scored at 10:50 by Kevin Zimmerman on timely passing by Ricky Reid and the goalie Erick McDermott (he had at least one other assist this year). Tewksbury was "red hot" as they scored again at 10:40 by Bobby Giasullo on perfect passing by Mike Beatrice. NH East really had its work cut out and you could see the trepidation in the play. Tewksbury's Chris Beek scored at 5:36 on superior passing by Brian Bastien and Bobby Giasullo. NH East had several good chances but couldn't seem to capitalize on them and Tewksbury's Bobby Giasullo scored again at :11 on pinpoint passing by Chris Beek and Tewksbury went onto beat NH East 7-3, to take the Merrimack Valley semifinals and move on in the playoffs.

Tewksbury had a superior effort from their goalie tandem of Chris Gatti and Erick McDermott (nice assist Erick) and the checking of David Sousa and Tim Bowden was excellent. The defensive support of Chris Beek and Erin Sweet was fantastic. Special kudos, to Bobby Giasullo who had a "hat trick" and one assist.

Saturday night's championship game at MVF for Valley Youth Hockey League honors was a real barnburner as Tewksbury scored early and added a score in the second, but Marblehead came back. In the end it was Tewksbury Bantam III taking the Valley championship game 3-2.

In the first period the action was fast and furious, as you had, two evenly matched teams squaring off for all the marbles, so you know both teams came to play. The skating was fast with good end to end checking that was hard hitting. Tewksbury's Ricky Reid scored at 7:20 off a pinpoint pass by Adam Rooney. For the rest of the period both teams played hard checking and in your face defense and when the buzzer sounded Tewksbury was on top, 1-0.

In the second period both teams seem to bring their play up a notch, the hitting was again ferocious and the skating fast. As the period went along both defenses dug in and the goaltending was tough, but at 5:26 Tewksbury's Dan Sousa scored off a beautifully placed forward pass by Kevin Zimmerman, to increase their lead to two. Marblehead had several chances in the closing minutes of the period, but just couldn't capitalize. When the second period ended Tewksbury was on top, 2-0.

In the third period Marblehead made its presence felt as Pat McCarty scored off a Hunter Shunzi pass at 11:38. Tewksbury's Jeff Surette scored just seconds later as a bouncing shot getting just past the Marblehead goalie on a perfect Adam Butland pass. With their backs to the wall, Marblehead really brought the play, and with Tewksbury in the penalty, Marblehead's at McCarty scored at 7:00 on a Dylan Hurd pass. The action was really heating up as most of the action was in Tewksbury's end and with several heated shots and many rebounds heading back to the goalie. Late in the third with the action on the goalie intense, a well screened shot looked as though it would go in, when defenseman Adam Rooney batted it away, saving the goalie a tough save. In the end Tewksbury was able to hang on, but not before the crowd felt the high tension of a close win. Tewksbury took the Valley Hockey League Championship, 3-2.

Tewksbury's goalie tandem of Chris Gatti and Erick McDermott was extraordinary and the checking of Bobby Giasullo and Mike Beatrice was timely. The defensive support of Chris Beek and Erin Sweet was superb and Tim Bowden was all over the ice, making great plays.

Wildcat baseball team survives the big 3 arms

BY JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Within this past week, the Wilmington High baseball team faced two of the best pitchers in the Eastern Mass. area. They faced the third of the magnificent trio about two weeks ago. All three of these dominating hurlers come from the Cape Ann League and all three of them are legitimate major league prospects. A young and inexperienced Wilmington team has gone 1-2 against these three, beating Ipswich on Saturday and losing a tough one to Masconomet on Tuesday morning.

Saturday, the team's number one pitcher Scott Swiezynski overmatched Ipswich's Erik Drown, who had 22 major league scouts watching him in his prior start and three more from Detroit, Cincinnati and Arizona against Wilmington. But it wasn't Drown who came out on top. It was Swiezynski going the distance and striking out ten batters, while Drown whiffed eight. "Scott certainly opened [the scouts] eyes," said head coach Dick Scanlon. And not take anything away from Paul Fugere, Monday's game Wilmington didn't have Swiza pitching against their best, even though Fugere pitched very well in the loss.

"After we started out 0-2, I told the team that if we were 3-3 after the first six games that we would be in pretty good shape because we wouldn't have to face these killer pitchers anymore," Scanlon said. "We had Tewksbury and if we held onto that game we would be 4-2, with our two losses against two of the best pitchers around."

Scanlon is very pleased with his team on one hand, but gets very upset on the other hand because of some of the mental errors they make. Tuesday they made a handful of those, some of them costly, to a team that they couldn't give in too much. Masco sent Ben Crockett to the mound and his teammates scored a few runs early on, posting a 3-0 lead, with two of those runs coming on walks and errors, without getting a hit. Wilmington trailed 5-0 into the sixth as Crockett was exceptionally good, but Wilmington pushed across two runs on a balk and a rbi double by Jim O'Donnell. Peter Grasso and Dave DeAmato had two hits each in the game, while, O'D, Fugere, Mike Heffernan and Swiza had one hit each. Heffernan also came in relief, pitching the last two innings giving up a run on two hits.

"There were several great plays. Erik Banda made a great circle catch on a pop up and Pete Bamberg made a terrific running catch in right field and he threw a strike to second base to double up the runner. And we turned our sixth double play in the infield which is unheard of, I've never had a team turn so many in a season. Jimmy O'Donnell has done a very nice job at second base, he plays with his head," Scanlon said.

Against Drown and Ipswich on Saturday, Wilmington got RBI hits from O'Donnell, Swiezynski, Tim Gillis and Bamberg in the 5-2 victory. Peter Grasso was the lone Cat to have two hits, while, the big hits came from O'Donnell who drove in two teammates early on.

Last Thursday, the Cats defeated North Reading at home 9-4. Fugere struggled early on but settled down nicely throwing four consecutive blanks to the Hornets after they scored three runs in the top of the first. NR scored three runs in the top of the first inning on one hit, two walks, two hits batsmen and a dropped third strike. Wilmington scored one back in the bottom of the first on two doubles by Peter Grasso and Dave DeAmato.

In the bottom of the second, Wilmington tied the game at three on a two-run double by DeAmato, driving in Fugere and Grasso, who'd beat out a bunt and walked. The score remained the same until the bottom of the fourth when the Cats scored two more runs on a two-run double by Ryan Harrison driving in DeAmato and O'Donnell.

The next inning, Wilmington pushed across four runs, thanks to a rbi single by Grasso and a 3-run bomb over the right center fence (340) by Tim Gillis to break the game wide open.

Dave DeAmato and Tim Gillis paced the offense as they combined to drive in six of the nine runs. Grasso and Fugere also had two hits each in the win.

This week Wilmington will host Hamilton-Wenham on Thursday beginning at 10:00 (surprise, surprise we know about this game being in the morning, what happened to Tuesday's change, why wasn't anyone notified, even the trainer?), before they travel to Rockport on Saturday and North Andover on Tuesday.

DeAmato, Gillis bring the bats

BY JAMIE POTE
Sports Editor

Before the Wilmington High baseball season started, it was known that they had some pretty good pitching, but offense and defense were the big questions.

After displaying terrible defense in their first game, that has been very much improved since. And after scoring just six combined runs in their next two games, Wilmington has turned up their offense as of late as well, thanks primarily to Dave DeAmato and Tim Gillis, the team's second and third hitters, respectively. On Thursday, the left and center fielders combined for four hits and six rbi's in the team's 9-4 win over North Reading. It was their second consecutive win at the time, as they also beat a very good Ipswich team on Saturday morning. Right now the team is 3-3 and two of their losses have come against two of the best pitchers in Eastern Mass., while one of their wins comes from the third best pitcher around. It's obvious that Gillis and DeAmato have been instrumental with the team's surprising start, Thursday they both were "tenacious."

Trailing 3-0 after the top of the first inning to the Hornets, DeAmato doubled to center field to drive in Peter Grasso and the lead was cut to 3-1. In the bottom of the second, with the same score, DeAmato was at it again. This time he was down in the count 1-2 and was expecting some kind of breaking ball. He got it and laced the ball for a two-run double, tying the score at three.

"My first at-bat I was up on the count and he threw me a fastball and I hit into the left center gap," DeAmato said. "The second time I knew he was going to throw me a curve, and he did and it was kinda of a flop curve. I just stayed on it."

With the score still tied at three now in the last of the fourth with one out, DeAmato was walked on four straight pitches as it was obvious North Reading didn't want to give him anything good. And who could blame them? DeAmato had five hits in his last five at-bats! With him on first, Jim O'Donnell followed with a single sending DeAmato to third, while O'D stole second. Both of them scored on a two-run double by Ryan Harrison, and again DeAmato came up big, this time with heads up base running scoring a big run.

While DeAmato and company rallied to score five runs in four innings after trailing by three runs, starter Paul Fugere was throwing up four consecutive zeros after a very rough first inning. North Reading scored three runs in the first on one hit, two walks, two hits batsmen and a dropped third strike. In the next four innings, he gave up two hits and no walks and that allowed his teammates to get back into the game as he didn't walk any.

So the score remained at 5-3 in favor of Wilmington going to the bottom of the fifth inning. The momentum had totally shifted into hit second base, so I really couldn't get into my home run trot," Gillis joked. "I just wanted to be aggressive since he got me the first three times. If the first pitch was good I was going to swing at it, and I did. I got a curveball and just hit it."

Now with score 9-3, DeAmato followed with base hit, completing the Cats corner, thanks to Fugere, DeAmato and Harrison. But now was the time for Gillis to deliver the knockout punch. With Fugere and Grasso on base thanks to three singles in the inning thus far, Gillis who was 0-3 at the time, just wanted to be aggressive with this crucial at-bat. Wilmington did have a three-run lead, but they needed a big hit to open the flood gates. And that Gillis did. On a first pitch curveball, the lefty stroked a hard liner to right center field. The ball kept carrying and before you knew it, instead of a bases clearing gap shot, it was a three-run homer, about 340-feet.

"I didn't know it was gone until I his last two games of 3-for-3 games after starting the season off hitless in first five at-bats.

"I'm feeling more confident. I'm not worrying about my last at-bat and I'm not chasing anything. I'm waiting until I got a good pitch to hit and I just try to stay on it as long as I can," DeAmato said.

going to stay in the club, but I just don't know if I'm going to run another [Boston] marathon. Marathoning is not good for you - it's too long. It does a lot of damage to your knees, joints and kidneys and it really hurts after a while. Doing aerobic running or running five miles a day is fine, but anything over 10 or 20 is not good for you."

Besides being a retired Military Hospital Corpsman, Picariello has also been an Emergency Medical Technician and he currently works part time for the NordicTrack Company of Peabody as well as being a postman. He says he is glad he ran the race and especially glad he finished, but wished he had done it differently.

"It was my mistake, I only hurt myself. My qualifying time was 3:20.00 and I wasn't going to push myself, as I knew I wouldn't get there. But I wanted to get around 3:45.00. My legs were just killing me the last few miles. I'm proud that I did it and I'm proud that I finished, it was something to get that medal. But it has taken a toll on me."

best time wise (seven locals times were not found, whether overlooked or not knowing if they had finished). The 25-year-old did very well finishing 4,674th - out of approximately 12,000 registered runners and another 1,000 bandits - with a time of 3:33.47 (all of these are unofficial times, from the two Boston papers, not the chips they had on which eliminated anywhere from three to seven minutes depending on where the runner started). After her for the locals was another Wilmington veteran 32-year-old Ken McCowan who came across at 3:39.21, and then Tewksbury's Eric Takach, 22, at 3:46.34 and Bagley, 44, at 3:54.15. Leonard Pierce, Mike Panusuk and Tom Picariello of Wilmington and both Maciels also all broke the four hour mark.

Thereafter, Wilmington's Bill Covino, 46 came in at 4:10.46 followed by other Wilmington residents including Steve Petigne (4:19.00), Bob Willcox, 43, (4:30.22), Engdahl, 56 (4:48.40), Chrisanne Florio, 27 (5:01.04), Barbara Bourassa, 36, (5:11.42) and Jacqueline Petigne (4:34.35). As for Tewksbury, the father and daughter duo of Richard and Rebecca Snyder were at it again like it was told last year and Rebecca, 21, finished an hour ahead of her courageous Dad at 4:11.38.

Also participating but their times could not be found were Tewksbury natives James Marsh, 49, Harold Maupin, 48, Michael Mawn, 37, Sean McDermott, 28, Dave Tyler, 39, Robert Wallace, 42, and Wilmington native Paul Valente, 38.

For all of those who ran the 26 miles and finished, a big congratulations goes out to you all as your hard work paid off.

REAL ESTATE MATCHMAKERS

When you list your house with a Realtor who participates in the Multiple Listing Service (MLS), you get a lot of service for your money. Depending upon the MLS region, there may be hundreds of participating members.

The Realtor who lists your home works to get it sold. This is done by marketing directly to home buyers, but an even more powerful tool is marketing your home to other agents who have buyers. Your Realtor makes all the crucial information about your home available to the other members through the MLS, such as location, size, the number of rooms, the style of architecture, what personal property is included, and any other special features. The MLS description will also contain information about any special financing that might be available, showing instructions, and special needs you may have with respect to closing. It is a powerful tool for real estate matchmakers.

Under 9B soccer team faces Tewksbury

Wilmington's U9B boys travel soccer team took to the road Saturday to face Tewksbury and try to add another win to their record. The Wildcats came out strong and quickly began to control the ball, giving little chance for the Tewksbury defense to rest. Within the opening minutes, Christopher Azevedo assisted Justin Patrie in the game's first goal. The midfield was instrumental in keeping the ball forward as Mark Walsh was relentless, not allowing Tewksbury to carry the ball over the half way mark.

Patrick Schultz and Dan Patterson continued to send the ball forward to Jesse Belding, James Cuoco and Justin Patrie who had multiple shots on net. Jesse Belding aggressively charged the ball as the Tewksbury keeper babbled the ball, only to have the goal disallowed. As the half was coming to a close, Tewksbury's sole attempt on Wilmington goalie Patrick Ryan came from a blast outside the goal box that soared into the top corner, tying the game at one apiece.

The Wildcats started the second half determined to recapture their lead as they continued to dominate with ball possession and attacks on net. While Matthew Brooks, Michael Emery and James Cuoco took turns in the sweeper position to protect goalie Chris Azevedo, the midfield and forward lines started to click with their passing and soon the goals began to occur.

Patrick Ryan fed the ball to Justin Patrie for his second goal, and moments later Ryan himself scored as Justin Patrie and James Cuoco worked the ball upfield and sent it to the waiting Ryan. Dan Patterson then had his turn to score as the support of Mark Welch and Jesse Belding once more moved the ball to Patrie as he assisted yet another goal. Chris Azevedo came charging out of the goal several times, foiling any attempts by Tewksbury to shoot on net. Matthew Brooks was awesome on defense, working well with Azevedo to clear the ball effectively.

Wilmington's goal scoring was not over yet, where deuces were wild for the day's goal scores. Patrick Ryan and Dan Patterson both scored again on their own solo efforts that brought the final score to 6-1 for another Wilmington win.

The Wilmington Mite A youth hockey team were all smiles recently as they finished up their successful season.

Wildcat under 9A boys team remain undefeated

The Wilmington Under 9A team extended its unbeaten streak to three with an 8-0 victory over Waltham.

As he has done throughout the season, Timmy Kent put up Wilmington's first goal of the game by taking control of the ball and beating the Waltham goalie with an unassisted play.

Wilmington set up again quickly with Shane Foley making some blistering shots on the Waltham goalie which nearly connected. Brendan Demango and Greg Stewart also showed some nice moves offensively and the opposition learned quickly that it was in for a tough game.

Rich Barry drilled in the second Wilmington goal off a great pass from Dana Steenbruggen. Minutes later Rich Barry's cored again, this time from a classic passing play from Dana Steenbruggen and Josh Mayo. The Wildcats held Waltham scoreless in the first half as Zach Church and Brian Johnson played aggressive defense and goalie Brendan Sheehan was outstanding in net.

The second half was all Wilmington's as some great teamwork and terrific passing led to five more goals for the Wildcats. Minutes into the second half Greg Stewart scored with an assist from Brendan Sheehan. Waltham tried to fight back but was shut down several times by Brendan Demango's outstanding defense in front of the goal area supporting goalie Timmy Kent who kept the shutout alive with some nice saves. Zach Church, Rich Barry and Brian Johnson kept the ball moving making some great passes throughout the second half as Waltham tried desperately to keep up with their outstanding playmaking abilities.

Shane Foley added to the Wilmington scoreboard popping in the next two goals off some nice assists by Dana Steenbruggen. Steenbruggen also put one in the Waltham net off a great unassisted play. The final Wilmington goal came as Josh Mayo made a great pass to Brendan Sheehan for the score.

The team will travel to Somerville next week and will try to extend its unbeaten streak to four.

Wilmington Squirt A's end season

Wilmington's Squirt A Hockey Team, sponsored by Peterson and Peterson, wrapped up a successful 97-98 season with an exciting final round playoff game against Valley League rival Agawam. As with most of the meetings between these teams, this game was a classic back and forth contest which wasn't decided until the last second. On this occasion it was Agawam that came out the victor after an exciting "shootout" finish.

For the 97-98 season, the Squirt A's finished atop the Valley League with an impressive 15-3-0 regular season record. The Wildcats also did well in the Dual State League, winding up in second place with a 10-5-2 record. Pivotal to the team's success was the outstanding goaltending of Matt David who completed the year with an incredible 1.35 goals against average. Matt's intimidating presence "between the pipes" left many an opponent wondering what they had to do to get one past him. During this season, Matt racked up eight shutouts and 14 one-goal games, truly quite an accomplishment.

Supplying stellar support for their star goaltender on the defensive side this season were Eric Raposa, Kevin Velardo, Robbie Peterson and Michael McMahon. Opposing forwards knew they couldn't hang out in front of the Wilmington crease without attracting some attention from bit Eric Raposa of the scrappy Kevin Velardo. First year Squirt player Michael McMahon had a great season, exhibiting an uncanny ability to know just when to poke check and puck away from the streaking opponent Robbie Peterson could always be relied upon to skate the puck out of the defensive zone, weaving through the opposition like so many "orange cones."

Packing the offensive punch for Wilmington were forwards Timmy Aldrich, Zack Wilkins, Mark Gironano, Kyle Browne, Bobby Sinopoli, Scott Dunnett, Eric Ollila, Edzo Tucker and Jackie Rideout. Timmy Aldrich, the team's answer to the Energizer Bunny, spent the year flying up and down the ice at max throttle. Timmy's linemates Zack Wilkins and Mark Gironano also rated high on the hustle scale and their line tallied a pile of goals this year. Center Edzo Tucker was another team speedster, always hustling back to help out "on D." Tucker's right winger Eric Ollila was a force in the corners and behind the net, using his long reach to advantage, scooping the puck out to waiting Wildcats in front of the opponent's crease. Left winger Jackie Rideout was a favorite target, vying for position "out front" and always ready to swat one in for the team. Center iceman Bobby Sinopoli notched many a goal this year, but he also used his passing skills well, feeding linemates Kyle Browne and Scott Dunnett. Browne, with his fast skating speed and a blazing wrist shot was always a scoring threat. Scott Dunnett, another first year Squirt, had a super season, skating hard and playing good two way hockey.

The 97-98 Valley League playoff finale game on Saturday pitted Wilmington against nemesis Agawam. Wilmington's Timmy Aldrich scored the Wildcat's only goal halfway through the first period on a super rush beating an Agawam defender to the puck and firing a tough angle shot through the legs of their goalie. Agawam came right back only two minutes later, scoring on a breakaway to tie the game at one apiece. The teams went at each other pretty hard for the rest of the game, with each side having great scoring chances turned away by soem super goaltending, especially from Wilmington's own Matt David.

At the end of regulation the score remained 1-1, so a five minute sudden death overtime period was started. Again both teams had some quality chances, but no goals were scored, so they went to a five man "shootout." Wildcat forward Zack Wilkins scored on the team's third attempt, but it wasn't enough as Agawam's forwards notched three goals to win the game.

Head Coach Paul Wilkins did a great job all season of motivating the team and keeping them focused on the task at hand, i.e. winning the next game. Assistant coaches Kevin Browne, Steve Giordano and Paul McMahon also played key roles in developing the team's hockey and sportsmanship skills. Good luck to the players as they hit the outdoor sports fields this spring and summer, and continue their hockey next year.

Wilmington Mite A's lose, 5-4

The Wilmington Mite A team finished up its season with a nail biter of a loss to Masco by the score of 5-4.

The Wildcats carried the play throughout the game having been stopped by some good goaltending. The Cats were able to come back three times to tie it up only to beat in the end with seven ticks left on the clock. Masco netted the first goal just 11 seconds into the game as both teams came out flying.

Wilmington tied it up four minutes later when Danny Silva made a nice feed to Mike Fay breaking up the right boards. Fay put it away far side from the top of the circle. Zach Church made a nice end to tend rush of his own, faking the defense out of their pants only to be stopped.

Coming back the other way Dan Metcalfe made a great breakup of two on one in front of Shane Foley who played well between the pipes for Wilmington. The Wildcats continued to pressure the Masco netminder when Derek Fitzpatrick got off a hard wrist shot that was deflected wide. Wilmington took the lead when Chris Stafford worked the puck up to Danny Silva who dished it off to Dave Rizzo. Rizzo passed it off to Fay as he shot it in for the score with 20 seconds left in the period.

In the second, Masco tied it up early but the defense held them off for the rest of the period as Derek Griffin broke up a breakaway and Stafford stopped a three on one at his own blueline. Also contributing on "D" was Brian Garrett keeping the puck clear of Foley. The wildcats went on a rare three minute power play, on a major penalty when Stafford took a wicked two handed chop to the back of the legs. He was ok, and on the next shift, the line of Silva, Fay and Rizzo got off four to five shots but all were stopped as the period ended.

The Cats carried the power play into the third with Church making a nice centering pass to Mike Emery coming across the blueline. Emery let a rocket go from 30 feet out but was stopped. By the middle of the third Masco had gone up by the two as the Cats searched for some much needed offense if they wanted to pull out a win. Derek Griffin answered the call when he made a nice end to end rush shooting it on net as the Masco goalie was just able to get his stick on it. Dana Steenbruggen had followed the play in, scored on the rebound shooting it over the sprawled goalie.

With two minutes left Wilmington pulled its goalie for the extra attacker and it paid off as Mark Walsh passed it to Steenbruggen for the tying score. Wilmington dumped it in on the following faceoff and with a minute left the Cats pulled the netminder again. They kept the puck in the offensive end when a Masco player finally gained control of the puck racing down the right side. His first shot was blocked out front but he got his own rebound and wrapped it around the goal with seven seconds left in the game.

The Mite A's had a very good season finishing with a 25-24-5 overall record including the parity rounds, just missing the Valley League playoffs. Thanks go out to head coach Don Foley and assistants Rick Steenbruggen, Mike Fay, and John Garrett for all of the time they gave up for the team and making it a fun season. Also thanks to team sponsor First Electric Motor for their support of the team.

Under 12 A girls win

The Wilmington girls under 12A youth travel soccer team recently opened the spring season with a key victory and hard fought tie in division one soccer action.

The girls' first match was against a very tough North Reading team and the hometown Wildcats managed a 2-2 tie. In this game Ashley Steenbruggen and Lauren Rappoli were the offensive stars each getting a goal and an assist, while Lauren Cushing added a key assist on Rappoli's goal. During the match Wilmington put heavy pressure on the North Reading goal with Dawn DeRosa, Stefanie Gable and Gina Ranno having good scoring chances while Amanda Martiniello and Andrea Athanasios helped control the midfield.

In the second game against Billerica, the Wilmington girls dominated from the opening whistle and brought home a 3-0 victory at Billerica. The scoring hero for Wilmington was Rachel See with a hat trick, three goal effort. She was helped by two perfect passes from her fellow striker Kara Bruce and a great clearing pass by Lauren Rappoli. The other story in this game was the outstanding goaltending of Shannon Fahey, who stopped two point blank shots early in the match and the awesome defense led by sweeper Allison Flynn, stoppers Katie Riley and Kristin Burns and the great wing defender play of Jen Earls, Emily Dorrance and Jackie Spry.

The girls now set their sights on a key league clash with league leading Woburn and a makeup game with Melrose in the next two weeks and hope to continue their strong play.

Girls under 11A, 1-1-1

Wilmington 8 Lawrence 1
In game 1, the Wildcats dominated Lawrence, posting an impressive 8-1 victory. The scoring started off with a quick goal by James O'Neil who took a nice feed from Sean Layton and slammed it home.

Lawrence answered with its only goal of the game two minutes later. After that Wilmington took over with seven unanswered goals. The game winner was scored by Anthony Tomasi who was upset by Dan Liberty and Dan Zuccaro. Joe Luciano followed with assists going to David Velardo and James O'Neil. The final games came by Liberty,

Wilmington 6 No. Middlesex 2
In game two Wilmington started off a little slowly but charged on in the third period to beat Northern Middlesex 6-2. Danny Zuccaro started the game with two goals. Assists went to Kevin Tobin and Anthony Tomasi. No. Middlesex tied the game at two before the Wildcats finished off the scoring with four straight goals.

The third was scored by Tomasi with an assist to Joe Luciano. The final three went to Dan Liberty who posted his second straight hat trick. One assist to Tomasi. The victory was assured with strong play by Mike Rideout. Greg Buck, Sean Layton, James O'Neil, David Velardo, Matt Porter, and excellent goal tending by Paul Sferrezza.

In the championship game on Wednesday night, the number one seeded Wilmington Wildcats faced their Dual State rivals, the number two seeded Chelmsford Lions who had posted previous tournament victories against Haverhill and Tewksbury. The game was highlighted by strong goal tending from Paul Sferrezza who made several excellent saves while bearing the brunt of several after whistle cheap shots from the Lions.

The scoring started late in the first period when Mike Rideout took a nice feed from Sean Layton and fired a hard wrist shot top shelf. The other assist went to James O'Neil on the play. Wilmington scored the second goal of the game when Matt Porter sent Dan Liberty in on a partial breakaway.

Liberty fired the puck which was kicked out by Chelmsford's goalie but Danny Zuccaro quickly buried the rebound for the score. Chelmsford scored in the second period to pull within one before Joe Luciano fired home a quick shot on a feed from behind the net by Liberty to make it 3-1. Liberty scored again in the second, converting a pass from Anthony Tomasi.

In the third period the Lions tried to pick up the pace and managed to pull within one at the mid point by scoring at the end of a power play. However, the Wildcats finished them off with just over four minutes to play when Luciano just about duplicated Liberty's earlier pass to him and Dan slammed the pass into the far corner to end the scoring at 5-3.

David Velardo, Greg Buck, and Kevin Tobin didn't make the score sheet, but played superb defense to contain the high powered Chelmsford offense.

It was a great way to end the season and Coach Eric Porter would like to thank the other coaches for their hard work. Steve Zuccaro, Paul Velardo and Randy Rideout.

SPECIAL EFFECTS

By DOUG WOOD-BOYLE

Envision your own video footage of vacations and special family events with some of the same elan and attitude as Hollywood cinematic blockbusters such as "Titanic."

This is not a dream but a reality that is already possible through the Tewksbury based Avid Technology. They have a program on the market at this time that can plan your home videos from story board to editing.

The program, Avid Cinema has been used on Macintosh computers since 1996 and as of June it will be ready for use on IBM compatible PC's.

Avid's Product Marketing Manager Teresa L. Ragan said, "The program allows you to plan out the theme or the plot of a video. The people who wrote the template are people from Hollywood who have made home movies."

Those same people have also been involved in some of the top hits that come out of Hollywood, both on the big screen and on television.

Ragan explained that the program will take the home videographer from the story board to the final editing process. It allows for editing techniques such as sweeps and wipes that make the transition from one scene to another more interesting.

According to Ragan, a person who knows in advance what he wants to shoot can develop a script on the computer and then print it out to take along on a vacation or even a business trip, and shoot the needed scenes according to the plan.

Ragan said that the program will have over 30 templates that can be used in home, school or office situations.

The price for all of this will only be about $200. Far lower than the $50,000 it cost television news departments only three years ago.

One perceived use of the program will be for real estate companies that want to make purchasing a house or envisioning office space an easier task.

The company can make a video that can be seen by

About The Towns by Phyllis Nissen

'Rain Forest' in Burlington

"With a notable change of additional seating capacity, the Planning Board recently voted 6-0 to approve special permits for the RainForest CafT," notes the Burlington edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"This is a theme park-style restaurant which will go into the Burlington Mall - the first of its kind in New England - taking over what was formerly Herman's World of Sporting Goods and two surrounding stores.

"Attorney Carl King, representing the Burlington Mall, said demolition of the store to make way for the restaurant will begin...the Board of Selectmen voted a liquor license and victualler's license for the establishment.

"The restaurant hopes to open in September, King said.

"One of the special permits approved is for additional seats. The RainForest CafT will include 344 seats.

"According to King, the seating for the RainForest CafT includes 125 seats from Pizzeria Regina, which recently closed.

"The cafT's total of 344 means the special permit allows for 219 seats over the mall's prescribed limit.

"The restaurant will total 17,620 square feet, including 2,700 square feet of retail space within the restaurant.

"The other special permit is for the keeping of birds, fish and animals, as included on the premises (for visual purposes and entertainment) will be four live parrots, a crocodile pond, and 15,000 gallons of fish tanks...."

Pillings Park in Lynnfield

"Lynnfield has been selected for funding under the 1998 State Lake and Pond Grant Program to receive a $9,200 grant to develop a management program for Pillings Pond," notes the "Lynnfield Villager."

"The grant requires the town provide matching funds.

"According to Steve Asen of the Executive Office of Environmental Affairs, the funds will be used to conduct a watershed survey to assess the quality of runoff water at the pond and to educate pond abutters in protecting the runoff from pollutants; to develop a management plan for the continued restoration of the pond and conduct workshops on the town's longterm pond management plan. He said the grant funds will also be used to develop a community effort to create 'Pillings Park' for public access to the pond.

"Asen stated it was his understanding that botanist Terry Bastian, who is presently working on the pond project with the town, will oversee the activities under the grant."

Cummings attractions in Woburn and Wakefield

"The Woburn-based Cummings Properties has recently expanded its metropolitan Boston portfolio with the acquisition of three properties in Woburn and Wakefield," notes the Woburn edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The 27-year old development firm led by Winchester resident running alongside the Woburn Mall area.

WEDNESDAY/THURSDAY, APRIL 22, 23, 1998-PAGE S-3

"The Commerce Way property was formerly owned by DeStefano Realty Trust and was home to the Stefano Studios, a premier display company for over 25 years.

"In addition, the firm almost simultaneously purchased buildings at 34 and 60 Audubon Road in Wakefield from the Equitable Life Insurance of the United States, just seven days after signing a purchase and sale agreement...."

Special effects

From S-1 prospective clients in the comfort of the agent's office. Thus saving hours of driving around to find the perfect place that will fit the clients needs.

As to the reliability and ease of use of all of this. Look at the fact that Avid has been developing the editing technology since 1985 when Lexington native Bill Warner developed the programs that became the basis for today's business. The company soon took over a former Digital Computer space in Tewksbury where it now maintains world headquarters in the Metropolitan Technology Park.

The company has grown to employ 1,650 people throughout the world with offices in California, London, England and the Republic of Singapore.

Present President and Chief Executive Officer William J. Miller said, "Bill Warner started the company in 1987 with the idea that you could use a computer to edit a video a whole lot faster than the usual way of copying from one tape to the next."

Warner's idea involved digitizing the films and placing them in a computer. Not only were the editing cuts and pasting made easier, but the originals did not have to be destroyed.

"This turned out to be a powerful idea," Miller said.

The idea was so powerful that, according to Miller, it swept through the industry within the next few years and is now a standard. He added that today the company's name is treated like a verb and people are sent to "Avid" certain cuts.

By 1993 Avid received an Emmy award from the National Academy of Arts and Sciences in New York for outstanding achievement in engineering and development.

As the company grew, the realization came that new technology would be needed. This was accomplished through in-house research and through the acquisitions of other companies.

In 1994 Avid made the decision to reach into the music and audio production and post-production markets by merging with Digidesign, Inc. a leading digital audio company. The growth continued that year with the acquisition of BASYS and another merger with SoftTECH Systems, the leading providers of newsroom equipment.

In 1995 the acquisition of Parallax Software and Elastic Reality cemented the company's base in the paint and composing, and the special effects end of the business.

In 1996 the company joined with Apple Computers to introduce the aforementioned Avid Cinema for home editing uses.

A demonstration of how easy the program is to be used will take place this week when the company will welcome the children of its employees and have them make and edit a video by themselves. The video will then be shown as part of Bring Your Children to Work Day.

The switchover for the Avid Cinema program from Macs to p.c.'s will be possible due to agreements made last year with Intel Company.

The company's technology was responsible for Oscars for such movies as the "English Patient" (two awards) in the past to this year's achievement of five awards for the movie Titanic. The awards were:

-Best Achievement in Film Editing, which went to Conrad Buff, James Cameron and Richard A. Harris for their editing work done on the company's Film Composer machines;

-Best Picture of the Year, to Director James Cameron and Executive Producer Jon Landau;

-Best Achievement in Special Effects, awarded to Robert Legato, Mark Lasoff, Thomas L. Fisher and Michael Kanfer using Avid's Elastic Reality and Matador special effects programs to build effects and Film Composer to pre-visualize them;

-Best Achievement in Sound with Gary Rydstrom, Tom Johnson, Gary Summers and Mark Ulano picking up the award for their editing and mixing work done on Audio Vision and Pro Tools; and

-Best Achievement in Sound Effects Editing with Tom Bellfort and Christopher Boyes receiving the award for their work with the Audio Vision and Pro Tools.

As Miller said, "Most of the effects that take place in movies and television are ones that you don't see."

He explained that large crowds can be made out of smaller crowds saving film companies large amounts of money because they do not have to hire more extras.

Miller also noted that if the terrain that provides a background for a scene is difficult a shot can easily be taken of it and then transferred into the scene actually seen by viewers.

This could also include shrinking the size of a mountain instead of having it dominate the scene and taking away from the "horror" being portrayed by the actors.

Locally, Avid is used by many of the television stations in their news departments and by WGBH Educational Foundation for such programs as Frontline Productions "Secret Daughter" and "Once Upon A Time in Arkansas."

As to the company's future, Miller said, "We still have a long way to run. Our first is to maintain our leadership in the industry."

Miller came on the scene in 1996 after the company posted cash revenues of $429 Million but a loss of $38 million.

Manager of Corporate Communications David Conti said, "Bill Miller helped to turn us around."

With that turn-around is coming the realization that the company needs to be more involved in the community, which has become a part of Conti's job.

He has outlined a plan which calls for three focal points:

- Educational - To educate the future video editors of America;
- Public Television - To support and fund quality PBS television programming; and
- Community - To support programs in the local communities that Avid chooses to do business. Preference is given to Avid employees that serve in a leadership position in charitable organizations.

As an example Ragan notes that the company is doing a lot of work with the Greater Lowell Community Foundation.

For more information on the Avid Corporate Giving Program call Conti at (978) 640-3669 or check out the Avid website at www.avid.com.

Middlesex East Sports Athletes & Activities

BY PAUL FEELY

Junior DAN SULLIVAN and sophomore JOHN O'LEARY, both of READING, earned varsity letters as members of the 1997-98 Trinity College Men's Hockey Team, which finished the season with an 11-11-2 mark and qualified for the ECAC tournament.

Sullivan, a left wing, earned his third varsity letter by playing in 15 games, gathering three goals and an assist. He attended Belmont Hill School and is an economics major.

O'Leary, a defenseman, earned his second letter, collecting two goals and eight assists in 19 games. He played exceptionally well in the Bantams late-season playoff run and had moved into the starting lineup by season's end. He also attended Belmont Hill.

SPORTS SHORTS

•MIDDLESEX EAST SPORTS WEEKLY TRIVIA QUESTION: Very few baseball players have exactly three letters in their last names. Name a Hall of Famer, a Most Valuable Player, and a Rookie of the Year who each have three letters in their last names. Answer appears elsewhere in this column.

•Here's an update on local players who are skating this season on minor league hockey teams: BURLINGTON'S BILLY PIERCE, who's playing for Chesapeake in the ECHL has seven goals and nine assists in 49 games played; fellow BURLINGTONITE BOBBY JAY, who plays for Detroit in the IHL has five goals and 12 assists in 66 games played; and READING'S MIKE SULLIVAN, skating for Pensacola in the ECHL, has 30 goals and 49 assists for 79 points in 64 games.

•Former READING HIGH standout and Northeastern University quarterback JIM MURPHY signed as a free agent with the New England Patriots Sunday night. Murphy went undrafted by any team this weekend, but received a phone call with an offer from the Patriots shortly after the draft concluded.

•The TEWKSBURY HIGH SCHOOL TRACK AND CROSS COUNTRY TEAMS are holding the third annual "RUN A PLEASANT MILE" ROAD RACE on Pleasant Street in Tewksbury on Sunday, May 17 from 9-11:30 am.

The purpose of the race is to raise funds for the McGadden Scholarship Fund, which provides money to assist college-bound seniors who are among the over 200 students participating in the track programs. The course is just one mile, which should enable participation from a wide range of folks.

140,000 Reasons to Advertise in Middlesex East

Every week over 140,000 readers turn to Middlesex East for shopping values.

Middlesex East

Last year there were several raffles at the race, and more are included this year. For more information call Pat Takach at 978-851-4770 or Rita and Charles LaBella at 978-851-5877.

•Need a clue or two to help solve the trivia mystery? The Hall of Famer is Mel Ott.

•WILMINGTON'S KRISTEN THOMAS, a 16-year-old defenseman for the Chelmsford Lions Independent girls hockey team, is preparing to lead her team to the national tournament in Anaheim, California later this month.

Last summer she was chosen to try out at Lake Placid. Her high school team (she plays for Cushing Academy) is also enjoying success this year, sporting a 17-1-1 record while being rated the top women's team in New England by the esteemed Hockey Night in Boston publication.

In order for Thomas' team to make the trip to Anaheim, it must raise $20,000. The team is seeking donations (any amount will do), and anyone wishing to help the team out is urged to call 978-658-0138.

•Two Middlesex East players have helped the Babson College baseball team set a school record for home runs. The team has hit 21 round-trippers in 28 games thus far this season, and READING'S ERIC PREVITE has hit four home runs (along with 14 doubles, three triples, a team-leading 39 runs scored, a .373 batting average and 31 RBI), while fellow READINGITE JON CIGNETTI has one home run (along with 33 RBI and a .392 average).

•ANSWER TO THIS WEEK'S TRIVIA QUESTION: The three players are: Hall of Famer Mel Ott, Most Valuable Player Nellie Fox, and Rookie of the Year Steve Sax. Congratulations to those who answered the question correctly, and look for this space next week to find another sports-related trivia question.

•DO YOU KNOW SOMETHING WE DON'T? If you have information about a local athlete that you would like to see appear in this column, please mail it to: Paul Feely, Middlesex East Sports, P.O. Box 240, Reading, MA 01867, or call Paul at 781-944-2200 between 7 am and 3:30 pm, Monday through Friday. Items can also be faxed at 781-942-0884.

The Reading Community

Singers will present their spring concert on Saturday, May 2nd at 8pm at the Old South United Methodist Church in Reading Square. The group has a long history. It performed its first concert in 1920, and until 1995 was known as the Reading Choral Society and composed of women only. Since 1995 it has included men, changed rehearsal time to Tuesday evening, and grown into a chorus of approximately 60 men and women from Reading and a number of other area towns.

Membership is open to anyone who loves to sing. There are no auditions. For the last three years the group has been directed by Deborah Smith, a young, dynamic and exceptionally gifted choral director. The very talented accompanist, Ann Chalk, will be moving to Texas after the spring concert.

Tickets for this performance are $5 per adult, $1 per child and will be available at the door. For more information on the concert or on the group itself, call Myrna at 781-438-4379.

Tooth and nail in North Reading

"This year's Science Fair at North Reading High School had a distinctly consumer-oriented appeal as the first place winners concentrated on practical applications such as picking the best toothpaste, stain remover and sound insulating materials," notes the "North Reading Transcript."

Other students won prizes for more esoteric subjects, such as the effect of acid on plant growth and determining the stressful effect of movies on the audience.

"Kathryne Tone, a junior, chose as her subject 'Can movies have a stressful effect on Fitness Center will offer a range of programs for men and women, special needs clients, and professional athletes based on the internationally recognized BodySense method of correct posture, alignment, and breathing created by Luby.

Monthly educational seminars an corporate Worksite programs will also be available. Hours will be by appointment, Monday through Thursday, 10am to 9:30pm for fitness training.

a person?"

"To gather her data, Tone screened movies 'The Rock' and the 'Natty Professor' as well as the Denver Broncos vs. Kansas City Chiefs football game.

"Tone conducted her experiment by measuring blood pressure, heart rate and respiration of subjects at critical points during the movies and game. Her conclusion: high intensity scenes do increase a person's blood pressure and heart rate.

"In choosing her experiment, Tone wisely avoided New England Patriots games last season. Heck, they were all stressful. And she hasn't seen the 'Titanic' yet, which has set pulses racing across the country for months.

"Another junior, Julie Wetherbee, won third place for her research on whether colors affect people and their environment. Wetherbee's conclusion: yes, there's a definite connection.

"I thought it would be an interesting subject. We're surrounded by colors every day because the world isn't black and white," she said.

"All together, 51 N.R.H.S. students completed research projects in botany, human and animal behavior, chemistry, physics

Unlocking the positive power of the mind

Is there room for improvement in any area of your life? If you're like most people, it won't take long to think of something. "The power to change your deficit and improve yourself has been with you all the time. It's your own mind," says author Russ von Hoelscher. How To Achieve Total Success is a new guidebook, written by von Hoelscher, that shows people how to unlock the positive power of the mind and achieve success in all areas of life. "Most of us have been programmed to think and act in a certain fashion-one that not only sets up barriers to success but becomes increasingly harder to change as we grow older and set in our ways," says von Hoelscher. His book reveals easy-to-follow practical suggestions to replace improper thinking with a new set of rules for the mind which will aid in reaching goals. The book is available for $20 plus $3 shipping and handling. California residents please add $1.78 for sales tax, from August Quest, 56925 Yucca Trail, Suite 250, Yucca Valley, CA 92284.

"The Total Success philosophies and guidelines presented here are timeless. It is a book about using your most valuable asset, your mind to achieve success in all areas of living," he says. Russ von Hoelscher has written over three dozen books and manuals, mostly in the fields of business and wealth-building. "I enjoy helping people help themselves. Nothing brings greater personal satisfaction," deny their symptoms or to use alcohol in an attempt to deal with their emotions. However, none of these theories have been proved in scientific studies.

Researchers are currently studying the ways in which women's and men's brains work differently at the cellular level. A recent study reported that women synthesize the neurotransmitter serotonin at a significantly lower rate than do men. Because serotonin is thought to play an important role in depression, this finding may prove relevant to the greater prevalence of depression among women.

Treatment

Depression is generally treated with medication, psychotherapy ("talk therapy") or a combination of the two. Doctors have found that a newer type of antidepressant called selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors (SSRIs), such as Paxil (paroxetine HCl), is effective in treating depression.

Paxil is an SSRI that has been cleared by the Food and Drug Administration for the treatment of depression, panic disorders and obsessive-compulsive disorder. During clinical trials of Paxil for the treatment of depression, the most commonly reported side effects were lack of energy, sweating, nausea, decreased appetite, drowsiness, dizziness, insomnia, tremor, nervousness and ejaculatory delay.

'Art & Sole' in Winchester

"An estimated 200 revelers attended the eighth annual Beaux Arts Ball, many sporting decorative footwear in keeping with this year's theme 'Art & Sole,'" notes the Winchester edition of the "Daily Times Chronicle."

"The ball, sponsored by the Winchester Friends of Art, is expected to raise in excess of $5,000 for Winchester Public School art programs. The fund is used to purchase special supplies, computer graphics programs, or field trips which might otherwise be beyond the reach of the schools.

"Town Hall auditorium was decorated with art work done by students over the past month or so, all in keeping with the theme.

"A delightful 'shoe totem' (a totem pole of white-washed shoes) greeted guests as they arrived. Inside, 'objets d'art,' magnets and picture frames made by students were on sale and a variety of displays adorned the walls and tables, including a hanging clothesline of wire feet, puppets which seemed to be inspired by their footwear, and playfully decorated shoes on the tables.

"The sea of mostly tuxedos and black evening gowns was livened up by some innovative footwear, including huge green fuzzy dinosaur feet.

"Sole Judge' David Ardito, Winchester Schools' director of art, spent the beginning of the ball cruising the hall in search of award-winning moccasins. Ardito's sneakers, with three darts sticking out from the toes of each, were designed because he was 'darting around so much.'

"Among the highlights he found were:

"The award for the 'artist with the most polish,' which went to Nancy Sherman Hudson's Wicked Witch of the West shoes which earned her a rehealing from the Winchester Shoe Hospital.

"The award for 'the most art & sole' which went to Lori and David Goehring. Lori had a paint set on one shoe and an electric guitar on the other. David also had art on one shoe and 'soul' on the other, represented by a photo of the Queen of Soul, Aretha Franklin. They earned a pedicure from Eclips.

"The award for 'tapping the imagination and stepping up to School Notes To S-7

Washington and DC in Tewksbury

"The kindergarten students at the Burke Child Development Center in Tewksbury celebrated Presidents Day in a big way," notes the "Tewksbury Town Crier."

"For a month the students discussed different presidents, beginning with George Washington and leading up to Bill Clinton. The students then began discussing what they would do if they were president. Kindergarten teachers Annie Hislop and Nicole Nicosia then decided it was time to put their students' words into writing.

"Each student's sentence began, 'If I were president, I would...' Jackie wants to 'make sure people don't go to jail.' Jason would 'make people not get dead.' Katrina thinks it is vitally important that 'people would have their medicine.' If Devan were president, he would 'make sure people don't stay in jail for very long.'

"If Brianna were president she would 'help people and make sure people feel better.' Christian would simply 'save people' while Jessica would 'help people.' Sarah says if she were president, she would 'make sure that people don't drink poison.' Leah clearly wants to 'rule the earth.'

WEDNESDAY/THURSDAY, APRIL 22, 23, 1998-PAGE S-7

"Ariel wants to 'make sure people have a medicine when they're sick.' If John were president he would 'make sure that in wars they will not get hurt.' Daniel would 'not let anybody die.' Kyle just wants to 'make the rules up.' Ben was concise. He wants to 'help people.' Finally, Kelsey would 'make sure that people would be safe.'

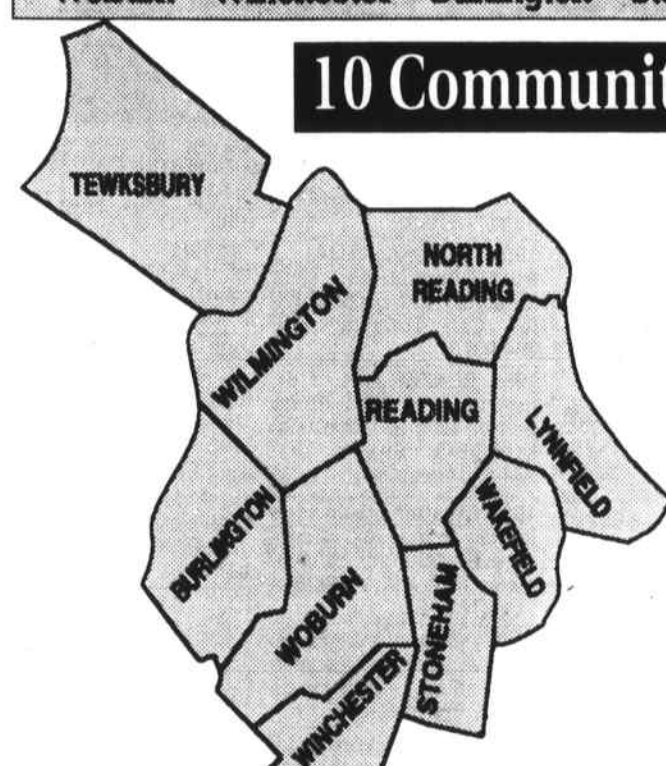

"This project served multiple purposes. It gave the children a small glimpse into their government and made them aware that not only do they have a voice in it, but the government even responds...."

Get Your Photo Ready

The Third Annual Middlesex East Publications Photo Contest is now underway as we go searching for the most outstanding amateur photographs in our ten town region.

This year we have also added a Junior Division for those under 18 years of age so we can get the younger people interested in taking exciting photographs.

In previous competitions we restricted the category to "pets" but this year we decided to open it up to every subject matter. We are not necessarily looking for what some would call a photographically perfect shot, but rather we are looking for lively, entertaining and unique photos.

They can be of your kids, grandchildren, your family or even a still life of your favorite table setting. You may also enter more than one photo but please place each photo in a separate envelope with a separate description.

There will be four cash prizes awarded including:
 First Place - Best Overall Photo $100.00
 First Place - Best Junior Photo (Under age 18) $100.00
 Second Place Best Overall Photo $75.00
 Third Place - Best Overall Photo $50.00
 There are some simple rules to follow. Each photo should be clearly marked on the back with

Name of photographer
 Address including street and community
 Telephone number

We will accept either color or black and white photos, no slides please, and we reserve the right to publish your photo in future issues. Every effort will be made to keep your photo safe but we can offer no guarantee. Every effort will also be made to allow you to claim your entry two weeks after the competition.

Your can mail your entry to:

Hardwood touches bath with practicality

Ask architects and interior designers why they put hardwood floors, cabinets and woodwork in bathrooms, and the word they use is "warm."

- "Hardwood's a natural-it generates a warm feeling."
- "It's a softer, warmer material than tile."

- "It's clean without being sterile. I like to use natural materials to warm up a room."

Oak. Ash. Cherry. Maple. Hickory. Walnut. For centuries, these and other hardwoods have been preferred for fine furniture, cabinets, flooring and millwork. But are they appropriate for humid bathroom environments? Absolutely.

Recent advances in wood treatments and home-building make it easy to install and maintain hardwoods in the bathroom, all but eliminating any problems with cracking, peeling, warping, buckling and water marks.

Design professionals recently told us at the Hardwood Manufacturers Association that, thanks to new finishes and technologies, they're using more solid hardwoods in bathrooms.

"With the right sealant, there's no reason not to put hardwoods in a bath," says designer Marie Schwartz, ASID of Baltimore, Md. "Hardwoods are perfect for bathroom cabinetry-long-wearing and beautiful, too," she recommends a non-yellowing acrylic finish. "It stands up well to spills," she told us.

"There's nothing like hardwoods. I just did a whole walnut bath," says Grand E. Scott, AIA, an architect in Pittsburgh.

Some of the recent advances include:

- Catalyzed Sealers, Manufacturers are pre-finishing cabinetry and millwork with durable, baked-on finishes that chemically bond with the wood to prevent moisture penetration.

- Quick-Curing On-Site Finishes. This new generation of wood finishes can withstand moisture, while maintaining the flexibility to accommodate woods' natural expansion and contraction.

- Improved Environmental

Controls in the Home. Controls and ventilation systems have dramatically reduced fluctuations in relative humidity in the bathroom.

Hardwoods fit in from floor to ceiling, according to Steve Hawkins, AIA, a Pennsylvania architect. "I'd go with a wood floor anytime. In one older home, I used a hickory floor with cherry wainscoting, chair rail and crown moulding."

"Nothing is maintenance-free," explains Florence Perchuk, ASID, a New York interior designer. "But I've never had a problem with hardwoods in the bath. Hardwoods in the bath are very classical, very European. Vanities, floors and paneling can all be done in hardwoods."

Expert Installation tips

- Not all North American hardwood species react alike in humid conditions. Oak, maple, cherry, ash, walnut, and hickory are particularly favored for bathroom applications because they are moisture-stable, strong, hard, durable and shock-resistant.

- Wood should be given time-at least a week-to become acclimated to the temperature and humidity of the room before installation.

- Before installation, make sure all wood surface-front, back and side edges are sealed and finished.

Write or call for free information on decorating with hardwoods: HMA, Dept. AHW-8, 400 Penn Center Blvd., Suite 530, Pgh., Pa. 15235; 1-800-373-WOOD.

Entrepreneurship on decline

Most managers today are satisfied working for someone else, according to a recent survey. Only 38 percent of those polled said that the average executive would choose to be self-employed if he or she had the necessary start-up capital. In 1994, 48 percent of respondents said they felt the average executive would make the move.

The survey was developed by Robert Half International Inc., the world's first and largest staffing services firm specializing in the accounting, finance and information technology fields. It was conducted by an largest companies.

independent research firm and includes responses from 50 executives with the nation's 1,000

"In a growing economy with declining layoff activity, there is less incentive for executives to leave their current employers and assume the risks associated with starting their own businesses," said Max Messmer, chairman and CEO of Robert Half International Inc.

Since the last recession, a number of executives who experimented with entrepreneurship may have found they prefer corporate life, Messmer noted.

Town Meeting Low turnout but it moved quickly

By SEAN DEVLIN
WILMINGTON - Echoing the turnout of the recent town elections, the crowd gathered at last Saturday's Annual Town Meeting hovered just over the 150-person quorum at times.

With the mandatory quorum reached, nearly 30 minutes after the meeting's scheduled start, residents first approved the town's fiscal year 1999 budget for $42 million before moving on to this year's warrant articles.

After passing over Articles 2, 3, and 4, voters approved Article 6 which authorizes the town to spend $109,515 for five replacement police cruisers, and an additional $90,500 for 10 computer terminals to be installed in the town's cruisers; $20,055 on one replacement van for the Public Buildings Department; $56,518 on two replacement mini vans for the School Department; and $140,000 for one new ambulance and rescue boat for the Fire Department.

With those expenditure requests complete, voters then approved Articles 10 and 11 which calls for the installation of new carpeting in the Town Hall for a cost of $35,000 and an additional $13,000 to upgrade the interior fixtures of town buildings, including the West Schoolhouse and Harnden Tavern.

Article 12 was approved allowing for the resurfacing of the high school's tennis/basketball courts for $13,000.

The sum of $5,000 was approved in Article 14 for the observance of Memorial and Veteran's days, and a total of $2,250 was approved in Article 15 to renew the clubhouse leases of the V.F.W., American Legion, and Marine Corp League.

After speeding through these requests, Town Moderator James Stewart paused the proceedings to commend town employee Dot Peters for her more than 30-years of service to the town, as well as offer her birthday wishes with a bouquet of red roses on behalf of the community.

Article 38, a request by the Veterans Memorial Committee to officially change the name of the Town Forest to the Wilmington Veterans Memorial Conservation Forest was ruled out of order. Stewart said that the members of the meeting were not able to make a decision on the name change since the forest is under the Conservation Commission control.

On Article 16, members of the meeting voted to accept several

6 acre land purchase met with opposition

By SEAN DEVLIN
WILMINGTON - Although the town's residents breezed through the majority of Saturday's Annual Town Meeting articles, the issue of whether to purchase land near Wildwood Street was a major sticking point, drawing much discussion from concerned residents.

The article, which proposed that the town buy the six-acre parcel of land for $432,400, was greeted with opposition from life-long resident Gerald O'Reilly who contended that one of the parcel's three sites was contaminated.

"It was once a pristine pool, home to animals. It's all gone now. The land is filled with old cars, washers, driers, motor oil, and car batteries," said O'Reilly. "It's filled dangerous land."

O'Reilly, who lives on Wildwood Street, said that the area was polluted and neglected by the motorcycle club which used a garage on the site. Furthermore, O'Reilly said that although the town claims that it would take up the responsibility of cleaning the site, he doesn't believe they are sincere.

"Why should we as taxpayers be responsible for the cleaning?" he added.

On the other hand, Town Manager Michael Caira said that the land could be purchased and used to expand the cemetery or future public building projects.

"We have the opportunity to seize land for a reasonable amount of money that could benefit the community," said Caira. "If there's a reason not to take the land, the selectmen will not take it.

"The town will go through an evaluation and inspection of the land. But we're not going to purchase something that's going to be an albatross around the town's neck."

One resident proposed an amendment to block the town from acquiring the site, but reversed her decision after Town Counsel Alan Altman assured residents that the land would have to be inspected prior to a bank lending the town money for its purchase.

"Banks require that a 21E inspection be done if you wish to purchase the land, and an environmental firm must do the inspection," said Altman.

The selectmen agreed with Caira and Altman, and said that the town would not buy itself into an undesirable position.

"I believe that the passing of this

As road is rebuilt

Lowell St. sewer gets positive vote

By SEAN DEVLIN
WILMINGTON - Another hurdle in the town's fight for the Lowell Street Sewer Project was cleared at Saturday's Annual Town Meeting, as residents overwhelmingly voted in favor of installing the sewer line by a vote of 109 to 34.

While many residents obviously support the project, which would install the line from the Route 38 and Lowell Street intersection towards Reading, several opposed the item fearing it would be an open-door invitation for larger industries to move into the area, compromising the character of the town.

"The only reason to put that sewer in there is to get more development," said Bay State Road resident Russell MacDonald.

Another resident agreed with MacDonald and said that "the sewer would allow for more industry" and that the project should be shelved until more is known about its environmental impact on the community.

During the discussion, Richard Longo of the Water and Sewerage Commission urged the audience of voters to approve the project now so that it is in conjunction with the plan, the result of an Massachusetts Institute of Technology-based study, to upgrade Lowell Street as a whole. The plan offers smoother zoning transitions with "villages" for commercial and residential use. Longo stressed that if the sewer line is not laid while the road surface is open, the town will have to wait another five-years before the street can be dug up again according to regulations.

"If we wait, the cost of construction will be higher in five-years," said Longo. "It also makes sense to pay for sewerage now, rather than to pay for septic updates later."

In addition, Longo said that the preconception that a surge of industry will follow the installation of the sewer lines, changing the face of the town, is simply not true.

"It's a scare tactic," he said. Conrad Gerhartz, an Andover Street resident, urged voters to be cautious in making their decision.

"Don't be pushed because the road's going to be dug up," he said, adding that he was concerned about the amount of water left in the town.

Voters also approved a companion article allowing the Water and Sewer Commission to seek out alternatives to the Lowell Street project.

Sentenced to Cedar Junction Local convicted of rape

By FRANK J. AMATO
WILMINGTON - After a five-day trial, George Barboza, 57, of 27 Roosevelt in Wilmington was convicted on four counts of rape of a child and four counts of indecent assault and battery on a person under 14. Barboza denied having any sexual contact with the boy.

The trial was conducted in Middlesex Superior Court in Cambridge.

Prosecutor Kevin Ryle alleged that Barboza used the 13 year old boy as his sex partner for three years. The alleged relationship ended when the family became suspicious of the affair and contacted Wilmington police.

According to Wilmington Police Inspector Pat King "The parents became concerned about him and began tape recording conversations between their son and Barboza," said King. King, who listened to the recordings said: "This was one of

It's "Good-bye, old paint" Hazardous waste collection Saturday

WILMINGTON - the only thing worse than an old line from a old cowboy movie is having stuff around the house you can't get rid of: that stuff the trashmen won't even touch. Those car batteries, the can of (what color was that?) paint, weed killer, bug killer, motor oil, solvents and more are all on the list of things you can get, but can't get rid of.

Well, now you can. The Town of Wilmington will be conducting their annual Hazardous Waste Collection Day on Saturday from 9:00 a.m. to 3:00 p.m. at the Swain School parking lot on Middlesex Ave opposite the town common.

There is a complete list of what you can bring and what you can't on page 9 of this paper.

For further information you can call the Wilmington DPW at (978) 658-4431.
